Jenkins 'Loyal' To U.S., Report By FBI Reveals

WASHINGTON (AP) — The FBI says it has conducted an extensive investigation of Walter W. Jenkins and found no evidence that President Johnson's top aide for 25 years compromised the security or interests of the United States in any manner.

Jenkins resigned at Johnson's request on Oct. 14 after it became public knowledge that the special presidential assistant had been arrested at the YMCA here on morals charges in 1959 and again last Oct. 7.

In reporting to Johnson Thursday night on the investigation he had ordered, the FBI said:

It found that Jenkins "had limited association with some individuals who are alleged to be, or who admittedly are, sex deviates" but there is no information reported to indicate he "ever had improper acts with them."

Jenkins "admitted having engaged in the indecent acts for which he was arrested in 1959 and 1964." He said that he had not known Andy Choka, with whom he was arrested on Oct. 7.

He told the FBI no attempt had ever been made to compromise or blackmail him.

Jenkins said he was "enticed" by the arresting officer in 1959 and "his mind was befuddled by fatigue, alcohol, physical illness and lack of food" at the time of the Oct. 7 arrest.

The President has said that until the day he asked Jenkins to resign he had no information that would have led him to question the personal conduct of his aide.

There was no immediate comment on the report of the FBI investigation from the White House or from Republicans. The Jenkins arrests have become an issue in the presidential election campaign, and Dean Burch, Republican national chairman, has charged the President with covering up the first arrest.

The report which FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover sent to Johnson and acting Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach said Jenkins had been cleared on security checks in 1956, 1957 and 1958.

Hoover said Jenkins told the FBI "he would lay down his life before he would disclose any information that would damage the best interests of the United States."

Jenkins, 46, and the father of six, was placed in George Washington University Hospital by Dr. Charles Thompson the day the arrests became public knowledge. He remains hospitalized.

Dill Attends Pickle Convention

By JOE DILL

CHICAGO (AP) — A person named Dill should never attend a conventon of pickle packers. The temptation is really too much.

Miss Pickle and Mr. Mustard also were there, but Mrs. Burger couldn't attend.

"Come on, get off it," said one pickle man after reading the newsman's name tag. "Nobody named Dill would come to a pickle convention."

"It just ain't kosher," he added.

"Are you covering this assignment with relish?" a wit quipped.

It was the annual convention of Pickle Packers International, Inc., Thursday night, a jolly group which takes sour delight in belittling its profession.

"Is that name for real?" asked a man from Minnesota. "How are you connected with the pickle business?"

When told that the newsman not only wasn't involved with pickles, but couldn't stand the taste of them, Bill Moore, pickle packer secretary, of St. Charles said: "It's psychological. You don't like pickles because of your name."

Some bystander suggested a "pickle plan" to develop a taste, and suggested that Miss Pickle might help.

Miss Pickle is actually Miss Jane Phillips of suburban Des Plaines, a svelte, petite young lady who tours the country in a "pickle dress."

The newsman admitted she could solve the problem.

Donald L. Mustard of Elgin, Ill., an insurance broker, was asked for a comment, but he said only: "I don't like to spread it on too thick."

One pickle man suggested naming the newsman's first offspring "brine."

"Masculine name," he said.

The newsman noticed that a huge table of before-dinner appetizers was lacking one thing.

Date With Chair Might Be Kept

Slayer Who Fled Jail 44 Years Ago Arrested

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—A convicted murderer who missed a date with the electric chair 44 years ago faced today the possibility that the date might be kept after all.

Leroy Marion Dunlap, 64, had been hiding his real identity since he escaped from jail here May 12, 1920.

Dunlap was arrested Thursday in a soldiers' home in Washington, D.C. He waived extradition and was returned here Thursday night.

Dunlap was confined in city jail, but a detective said he would be transferred to Summit County Jail. It was there that he and two other men sawed through a window and escaped. The trio and two other men were charged in January, 1920, of slaying Steven Bossos, an Akron restaurant owner.

Dunlap, accused of being the triggerman, escaped two days after his trial started. He was convicted in absentia, as Ohio law provides, and sentenced to the electric chair for first degree murder on May 17, 1920.

Attorney Cletus G. Roetzel, the original prosecutor, speculated Thursday that only intervention by Gov. James A. Rhodes, or a new trial, should one be granted, can save Dunlap's life.

"I knew it was coming," Dunlap said Thursday when he was arrested by Summit County prosecutor George Pappas and Akron police Sgt. Jack Carlton. "It has been a long time. I was hoping it wouldn't."

A retired serviceman, he had been living under the name of Harry Walker. He was traced to the home, where he had been living six years, through an FBI fingerprint check.

"Did they burn George Neichter?" Dunlap asked Pappas.

Neichter and his brother, Louis, escaped from jail with Dunlap.

George Neichter was convicted and sentenced to die, but was spared by Gov. James M. Cox just 13 minutes before he was to be electrocuted.

Louis Neichter was not recaptured. He died in a fall from a water tower in Massillon, Ohio, in January, 1928. John O. Smith and Ralph Richardson pleaded guilty in the Bossos slaying and drew life terms. Both were paroled after serving 11 years.

After his escape, Dunlap said, he fled to Rochester, N.Y., working as a restaurant counterman.

3 Perish In Fire At Salem; Fireman Breaks Leg In Fall

One Victim Is Retired Farmer, 79

Others Identified As Charles Bray And Thomas Harry

SALEM, Ohio (AP)—Firemen late this morning found a third body in the ruins of hotel Metzger, where two bodies were recovered in the wake of a fire Thursday night.

A number of retired persons lived in the top floors of the four - story brick building in downtown Salem.

The victims were identifed as: Harry Coburn, 79, a retired farmer; Charles Richard Bray, 47, an employe of the E. W. Bliss Co., and Thomas Morgan Harry. All lived in the hotel.

Parts of the roof of the four-story hotel collapsed as firemen from four communities fought to keep the blaze from spreading. Police feared the entire building might collapse and blocked off the area.

There was no damage estimate on the building, owned by George Paparodus of Salem.

Clarence Fuller spotted the fire in a third floor room occupied by Mrs. Edna Bailey, about 70. He used a fire extinguisher but flames leaped out of control. Police carried Mrs. Bailey to safety.

About 30 to 40 elderly persons, most of them permanent guests, were evacuated along with five children. Flames rose 25 feet as firemen climbed aerial ladders to pour water into the upper floors.

A Salem fireman, William Breault, 29, broke a leg when he slipped from a rung while an 80-foot aerial ladder was being lowered.

Cause of the blaze may have been overloaded electric wires, firemen said. The hotel's steam boiler blew out about two weeks ago and electric heaters were placed in the rooms.

The Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon at one time had seven men assisting Salem police in directing traffic and handling the large crowd at the scene.

FIRE SWEEPS SALEM HOTEL. Three persons, one a retired farmer, 79, were killed in a fire that gutted the Metzger Hotel Thursday night at Salem. Fire companies from four communities fought the blaze.

DST Will End Sunday—Turn Back Clocks

The time has come for that annual autumn chore — turning back the clocks.

Daylight Saving Time ends officially at 2 a. m. Sunday so householders shouldn't forget to turn their clocks back one hour before retiring Saturday night.

This will regain the hour's sleep lost last April when the Tri-State District and most of the Eastern States dropped Eastern Standard Time for the summer. DST began April 26.

A number of communities switched back to the regular time on Sept. 27 but the majority of the area under the so-called "fast time" kept their clocks ahead.

With the return of EST clocks will be more in accord with the period of dwindling daylight accompanying the approach of winter.

Weirton Tops Goal

WEIRTON — Weirton's Community Chest campaign has gone "over the top," contributions of $130,130.80 equal to 104.1 per cent of the goal of $125,000. E. D. Rothrock was chairman. The campaign ended Wednesday.

Johnson Leads Hoover Tribute

WASHINGTON (AP) — Herbert Clark Hoover returns in death today to receive highest funeral honors in a capital where he served as 31st president.

President Johnson leads the country in the tributes to a man he has called "a wise American — a humanitarian citizen of all mankind."

Johnson arranged to meet the funeral train as it arrived from New York in early afternoon, and escort the caisson to the great rotunda of the Capitol. There the catafalque that bore the bodies of Abraham Lincoln and John F. Kennedy was readied.

The ceremonies include the firing of a 21-gun salute, ruffles and flourishes from military bands, the playing of "Hail to the Chief" and such songs as "America the Beautiful."

Neither of the country's two living former presidents was able to attend today's ceremonies. Dwight D. Eisenhower was in Walter Reed Army Medical Center here for treatment of a painful cough and inflammation of his windpipe. Harry S. Truman is convalsecing at his Independence, Mo., home from the effects of a fall.

At about 2 p.m., Eastern Standard Time, the rotunda was to be opened to the public until 8 p.m., or later if necessary. Sunday the body is to be flown to Iowa, for burial in Hoover's native town, West Branch.

Hoover died in New York Tuesday at the age of 90. Thousands filed past his casket there in the great Episcopal Church of St. Bartholomew's on Park Avenue.

And Thursday the tumult of presidential politics was stilled for the moment as all four contenders for highest national posts attended simple, impressive services in the church.

The candidates — President Johnson, Sen. Barry Goldwater, Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey and Rep. William E. Miller — sat fairly close together but except for a nod passing between Goldwater and Humphrey, they did not seem to notice each other.

Ike Reported Satisfactory In Hospital

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower — strcken suddenly with a painful cough and raw throat — is in Walter Reed Army Medical Center to guard against complications.

His condition was described as satisfactory, save for the moderately severe inflammation of his windpipe and bronchial tubes.

His doctors — prescribing antibotics — expect improvement today or Saturday.

The quick entry into the hospital Thursday afternoon for an estimated seven to 10 day stay presumably takes the 74-year-old Republican out of the next stage of the election campaign.

So fast was the onset of the illness that an aide noticed only a slight huskiness in Eisenhower's voice the evening before.

But through the night it became worse. By Thursday morning the former president was so ill he had to drop plans to attend the New York City funeral services for another former president, Herbert Hoover, who died Tuesday at the age of 90.

Eisenhower was driven to Walter Reed by his personal driver, an Army sergeant. On admittance to the military hospital, Eisenhower was speaking with extreme difficulty, and his croup-like cough brought up phlegm — his ailment extending beyond laryngitis.

X-rays showed no signs of pneumonia, doctors indicated, and Eisenhower's heart—hit by a severe attack in 1955 — was described as very good.

Armed Man Flees From State Hospital

Augmented Police Hunt Continues In New Brighton Area

NEW BRIGHTON — Beaver County sheriff's deputies, Pennsylvania State Police and community officers were hunting late this morning for a 34-year-old man who pulled a gun and escaped from Dixmont State Hospital Thursday during processing.

Howard C. Krivan fled from the mental hospital where he had been taken following his arrest on an assault and battery charge filed by his wife, Irene.

James E. Ross, director of the hospital, ordered a full investigation of the escape.

Krivan had been taken to the Beaver County Jail at Beaver, then was transferred to the hospital by sheriff's deputies.

During processing at the hospital, Krivan pulled a gun—reportedly a snub-nosed revolver—on Charles Thomas of the hospital, and made his escape.

Krivan, of 813 14th St., who has a history of mental trouble, being on furlough from Dixmont, beat his wife Saturday, causing her to be hospitalized, authorities said.

She filed the charge after her release Tuesday, and he was picked up by deputies in a car in front of his home yesterday at 4:30 a. m.

Chief Deputy Ed Barnett and Veterans Administration Truman Rodfong took him to the hospital about 1 p. m. yesterday. He apparently had the small gun in his jacket, and pulled it on Thomas, the attendant, shortly after Rodfong and Barnett left.

At mid-morning today, police closed in on a house in the Junction Stretch section of New Brighton, but did not find Krivan.

Beaver Sets Inquest

BEAVER — An inquest has been set for Oct. 31 in the death of Mrs. Mary Billigan, 72, found in a Monaca apartment Wednesday, the apparent victim of carbon monoxide fumes which also felled Mrs. Bertha Cronin, who occupied the apartment.

McNamara Sees No Budget Hike

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secreary of Defense Robert S. McNamara says neither the Kremlin shakeup nor Red China's nuclear detonation will bring any significant increase in next year's military budget.

Speaking of U.S. nuclear might Thursday at a news conference, he said "these forces are adequate to survive a surprise attack upon this country, and survive with sufficient power to strike back in such a way as to assure the simultaneous destruction of the Communist Chinese and the Soviet societies."

McNamara said it is too early to assess the military significance of the ouster of Nikita Khrushchev and other changes in the Soviet hierarchy. However, he voiced confidence that the United States' present conventional forces and battlefield nuclear weapons strength are enough to protect national security "for the foreseeable future."

"If there should be any indication of significant increases in Soviet forces, or Soviet military budgets, for example, we shall be able to take the necessary steps to counter these increases before they are effective," McNamara said.

All this suggests that the military budget for 1966 will again call for spending of about $50 billion.

The defense secretary said the United States had anticipated for about three years Communist China's successful detonation of a nuclear device last week.

"The actual detonation, therefore, does not require any change in our strategic nuclear forces or the plans for those forces," he said.

Describing the device in the pioneer Chinese atomic blast as primitive — "large and unwieldy" and "difficult to deliver" — McNamara said "it represents a technology comparable to that of our devices of 15 or more years ago."

Raps White House, State Dept.

Barry Says Jenkins Case Showed 'Security Laxity'

FULLERTON, Calif. (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater today said the Walter W. Jenkins affair showed there was "lax security" in the White House. He coupled that with a charge that the State Department has cleared 150 people to handle U.S. secrets without full security investigations.

"The issue of national security and national integrity now has become firmly embedded in this election campaign," the Republican presidential nominee declared as — for the first time — he used the Jenkins case in a campaign speech.

For the moment, the Goldwater camp had no comment on the newly released FBI report, issued on Johnson's orders, which said investigators found no information to indicate the former presidential aide compromised U.S. security.

Jenkins, arrested twice on morals charges, resigned at Johnson's request eight days ago after his record was revealed.

Goldwater talked about the Jenkins matter in a speech on a whistle-stop campaign tour this morning from Los Angeles to San Diego.

The text, demanding that the Jenkins report be issued before the election, was handed to newsmen before the FBI report was released. But Paul F. Wagner, Goldwater's press secretary, said the Arizona senator stood by it, even though "we have not seen the (FBI) report."

"The issue of national security and national integrity now has become firmly embedded in this election campaign," the Republican presidential nominee declared as — for the first time — he used the Jenkins case in a campaign speech.

For the moment, the Goldwater camp had no comment on the newly released FBI report, issued on Johnson's orders, which said investigators found no information to indicate the former presidential aide compromised U.S. security.

Jenkins, arrested twice on morals charges, resigned at Johnson's request eight days ago after his record was revealed.

Goldwater talked about the Jenkins matter in a speech on a whistle-stop campaign tour this morning from Los Angeles to San Diego.

The text, demanding that the Jenkins report be issued before the election, was handed to newsmen before the FBI report was released. But Paul F. Wagner, Goldwater's press secretary, said the Arizona senator stood by it, even though "we have not seen the (FBI) report."

Underwood Proposes State Student Aid In Weirton Talk

WEIRTON — Cecil H. Underwood, Republican gubernatorial candidate in the Nov. 3 general election, proposed state student loans to permit any high school graduate to continue education in institutions of higher learning in a campaign address Thursday night at the Weirton Community Center.

The former West Virginia governor also declared he is for increasing teachers' salaries and for offering graduate courses, tuition free, to present high school teachers.

Underwood also criticized his Democratic opponent, Hulett C. Smith, for alleged "mismanagement" of the West Virginia pavilion at the New York World's Fair.

"How could a man who mismanaged $1,600,000 be entrusted with funds of West Virginia amounting between $150 and $300 million," Underwood asked.

The GOP candidate also said primary and secondary roads are his "No. 1 concern." He said the Northern Panhandle "was a forgotten part of West Virginia as far as roads are concerned."

Don Carman of Wellsburg, candidate for attorney general, attacked incumbent candidate Donald Robertson, claiming it was Robertson's "loose contract writing" that contributed to the high cost of the state's fair pavilion.

George Lesho, chairman of the Hancock County GOP executive committee, and Don Lewis, chairman in Brooke County, were in charge. About 300 attended.

Underwood planned to campaign today in other parts of Hancock County.

Driver Jailed On Crash And Bootleg Case

A 30-year-old man who fled the scene of a one-car crash near Negley Sunday night was sentenced to two 90-day jail terms and fined $400 and costs Thursday night by County Judge Herbert E. Arfman at East Palestine on charges of transporting untaxed liquor and operating a car without a driver's license.

The defendant was identified as James E. Reed of Post Office Box 63, Beaver Falls, although he gave the State Highway Patrol an address at Darlington R. D. 1.

The patrol filed both charges. He was fined $300 and costs and jailed for 90 days on the untaxed liquor charge and fined $100 and costs and given another 90-day term on the charge of driving without a license.

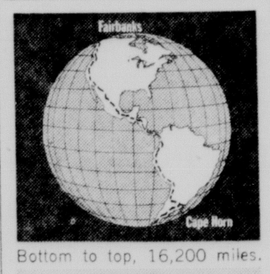
'65 Comet completes 16,200-mile durability run from Cape Horn to Fairbanks, Alaska, in 40 days

Livelier Comet proves once again why it's the World's Durability Champion. Uses showroom models in day-and-night grind from the bottom to the top of the world.

FAIRBANKS, Oct. 22 — Three Mercury Comets today finished a run no car has ever attempted in so short a time—the rugged 16,200-mile grind from Cape Horn to Fairbanks.

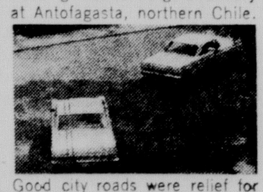
En route, day and night, the cars had no major repairs, just routine maintenance. That's ample proof that 1965 Comets are powerful and tough, not just lively and beautiful.



Bottom to top, 16,200 miles.

In South America, Spring was near. Thaws flooded the roads.

Passing abandoned gold refinery at Antofagasta, northern Chile.



Good city roads were relief for drivers after rugged stretches.

Shades of Daytona! Comet is famous for durability. Last year, specially equipped Comets ran 100,000 miles at Daytona in 40 days.

Regular production-model Comets used, just like showroom Comets. Want to see the car that made it from Cape Horn to Fairbanks? Visit your Mercury dealer's. Check a 1965 Comet Caliente, with smooth Multi-Drive Merc-O-Matic. The only difference: the run cars had an extra gas tank, because service stations are frequently so far apart in South America.

Comets are ready for immediate delivery. No waiting, if you order yours now.

Unlicensed Magazine Vendor Forfeits $57

William Hodari of Youngstown, cited Thursday afternoon in Klondyke on a charge of selling magazines without a city license, forfeited a $57.50 appearance bond today in Municipal Court.

Hodari was taken into custody at 12:25 on Michigan Ave. by Patrolman Orin C. Smith after he allegedly had sold a householder subscriptions to three magazines.

The charge was filed under a section of the City Code that requires an itinerant vendor to obtain a municipal permit.

'65 Comet completes 16,200-mile durability run from Cape Horn to Fairbanks, Alaska, in 40 days

Livelier Comet proves once again why it's the World's Durability Champion. Uses showroom models in day-and-night grind from the bottom to the top of the world.

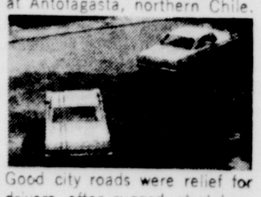
FAIRBANKS, Oct. 22 — Three Mercury Comets today finished a run no car has ever attempted in so short a time—the rugged 16,200-mile grind from Cape Horn to Fairbanks.

En route, day and night, the cars had no major repairs, just routine maintenance. That's ample proof that 1965 Comets are powerful and tough, not just lively and beautiful.

Bottom to top, 16,200 miles.

In South America, Spring was near. Thaws flooded the roads.

Passing abandoned gold refinery at Antofagasta, northern Chile.



Good city roads were relief for drivers after rugged stretches.

Shades of Daytona! Comet is famous for durability. Last year, specially equipped Comets ran 100,000 miles at Daytona in 40 days.

Regular production-model Comets used, just like showroom Comets. Want to see the car that made it from Cape Horn to Fairbanks? Visit your Mercury dealer's. Check a 1965 Comet Caliente, with smooth Multi-Drive Merc-O-Matic. The only difference: the run cars had an extra gas tank, because service stations are frequently so far apart in South America.

Comets are ready for immediate delivery. No waiting, if you order yours now.

A Shrine For America

If a proposal to make a national shrine of Ellis Island is adopted, either by an act of Congress or a presidential order, whichever seems more suitable, the American people will have the most meaningful symbol of their heritage ever offered. It will be even more meaningful than the Statue of Liberty nearby.

Ellis Island symbolizes the origin of every American who is not a pure-blooded American Indian. We live here together, struggling to preserve liberty in what once was a difficult land that today faces problems created by our ancestors' success.

Had they failed, there would be no problems. There would be no America. There would be no American dream. There would have been no pursuit of that dream by the millions who came here via Ellis Island and other ports of immigration.

There would be "no clashes of opinion, no hatreds, no struggles, no rancor, no squirming and wriggling for public office," as Abraham Lincoln once described it.

Candidates for public leadership would not be defaming one another in political campaigns. Hate vendors would be out of business; there would be no market for venom.

No one would pit class against class. No one could discriminate. There would be nothing to discriminate against, no classes to be pitted against each other.

There should be a shrine at Ellis Island. There should be reminders there of our origins elsewhere in this world and of the privileges here that never would have been found any other place.

We should visit the Ellis Island shrine often. We should gather public purses to send there on mercy missions all those among us who show by word and deed that they have forgotten their debt to America, the debt that can be repaid only by endless loyalty to the American dream . . . "that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable rights, that among these are Life, Liberty and the pursuit of Happiness."

Back To Collective Leadership?

A Communist party magazine says Nikita Khrushchev was removed from power in the Soviet Union because he became a personal leader, thereby making the mistake he condemned Joseph Stalin for making.

That was in February 1956 when Khrushchev and Anastas I. Mikoyan blasted Stalin for "the cult of the individual" and related how Communists lived in terror of a political despot. Khrushchev and Mikoyan said it never should happen again. Party leaders agreed. In the future, collective leadership would be the rule, they said.

So now the Soviet Union will return to collective leadership; that is the promise. But Communists in other countries are asking questions about the way Khrushchev was removed from office. He was no Stalin. He did not butcher his enemies.

As for returning to collective leadership, skeptics can ask when it ever existed. There can be no effectual collective leadership. Nothing significant can be accomplished by a committee. All a committee can do is discuss and propose.

Sooner or later, a chairman must take charge or the committee becomes useless. And the instant a chairman takes charge, that is the beginning of personal leadership — the cult of personality.

Soviet Union problems can be discussed by collective leadership.

Proposals for action can be offered by collective leadership.

But programs must be administered by individuals with power of decision.

If individuals are forbidden to exercise power of decision, there can be no effectual leadership. No wonder Communists in other countries are wondering what the party line is going to be.

Khrushchev demonstrated the absurdity of his own proposition, now turned against him. He was a strong individual but he was no Stalin. He was accused of many mistakes, but he was not guilty of slaughtering his political enemies.

That was what he hated in Stalin. That was why he and Mikoyan said in 1956 no man ever should be allowed to do such a thing again.

What Time Is It?

This weekend, 15 of the 31 states and parts of states that have been on Daylight Saving Time since last spring are returning to Standard Time. The others will tag along later.

The 15 states are doing this of their own volition. No law says they must go on or off Daylight Saving Time. Attempts to pass laws saying states and regions must stay on Standard Time do not exist, either.

Thanks to a misapplication of the doctrine of states' rights, the federal government cannot even require uniform time standards on interstate businesses like airlines, buses, railroads and communication companies.

The Transportation Association of America, which believes things could be better, has pointed to the example of a bus operating between Steubenville, Ohio, and Moundsville, W. Va. On a 35-mile stretch, it passed through seven time changes.

In the 1964 session of Congress, the Senate Commerce Committee approved a bill authorizing the Interstate Commerce Commission to impose uniform time standards on airlines, buses, railroads, communications companies. But the bill never had a chance. It was pigeonholed.

What time is it? If you're traveling, who knows?

Exhibit A At The Fair

New York World's Fair is being buttoned up for the winter, and the buttoners are making interim evaluations of the project.

One note of remorse is heard again and again—cost.

True, attendance lagged behind hopes. Would-be fair goers were scared off by a shortage of hotel rooms in the early summer, reports of exorbitant prices at the fair and fear of violence at the hands of lawless New Yorkers.

But the thing that hurt the fair management most was the exorbitant cost of constructing and operating the fair. Not only did it put a dent in profit expectations for the fair, itself, but in the prospects of exhibitors, who took it in the neck for everything they had to pay for in New York City.

Even if attendance had been up to the high expectations on which the fair's prospects were based, the cost factor would have been a heavy drawback. As it turned out—and partly because of high costs—attendance was a little more than 26 million compared with a predicted 40 million.

No one outside New York City can gain from what happened. The story is typical, not unique. Top-heavy costs are a burden on every enterprise. New York City just happens to be in sharper focus. Costs there are better known.

These are not only the legitimate, necessary costs but unnecessary and half-legitimate costs. They are burdens added to enterprise for no better reason than the ability of people in advantageous positions to pile them up for their own benefit.

The New York World's Fair, its managers predict, will pay out in its second year; there is no prospect of financial failure. There is only the prospect of growing remorse over runaway costs.

Cotton Corners

By Truman Twill

Dear Nephew: This is the homestretch for politics—and none too soon. We couldn't take more than another week of this.

"It's a heluva way to run a railroad," but isn't it marvellous how well it works! Where else can you find inefficiency turned into a national asset?

The efficient way to run government would be to appoint a screening committee to choose the best applicants for important government jobs. At the very least, we would make all applicants take examinations, the same as we do for relatively unimportant civil service jobs.

Instead, what do we do?

We throw up the jobs for grabs. Anyone with the itch can start grabbing.

We don't even go through the motions of picking the best people. We have no way of knowing who they are—no competitive examinations. And if we did know who they are, we would have no means of getting them elected.

I HAVE BEEN keeping track of government figures in our little community here at the Corners for a lifetime, and I cannot recall a single occasion when we chose the best man for the job. The best men weren't running. They had more important things to do. We settled for people with nothing more important to do.

Yet, the men we elected, by and large, turned out pretty well. Most of them rose to the occasion and outdid themselves. A few sank to the occasion and had to be disposed of with as much alacrity as the law allowed.

But out of it all, we have had fair-to-middling government. Looking at the big picture, I think we have had fair-to-middling government in this country because of the mediocrity of the applicants, not in spite of it.

SO HERE WE ARE, your aunt and I, with our sample ballots all marked and we are feeling sanguine about the whole thing. Among our local candidates there aren't more than two I'd put in charge of a vegetable stand on a back highway, but I'm sure all the winners will try hard and the losers will sink back into the obscurity from which they emerged to run for office.

We will get what we deserve, which is what we've been getting as long as I can remember. I'll take that back. We had a hot shot here some 30 years back. He could charm birds out of the trees.

He was smart, handsome, winsome and an operator. I never knew what happened to him when he got out of prison, where we put him when he showed his contempt for us mediocrities by mismanaging our funds.

Regards to the family.

Russians Build—And Then Repair

By Victor Riesel

Nikita Khrushchev, who succeeded only in burying himself, so disrupted Soviet industry and left it in such a creaking chaotic condition that virtually half of what it produces is defective.

Victor Riesel

Russia's biggest civilian business is the repair business — working on everything from TV sets, dial telephones, autos, huge automatic machinery, chemical plants, tractors and machine tools, to aircraft engines and submarines.

This can be reported authenticially from my own observations in Eastern Europe recently, from conversations with specialists and from a stirring and startling report from the Senate Internal Security subcommittee.

In all, the consensus is that the U.S.S.R. is on the verge of industrial bankruptcy, if not actually in it.

IT'S SUMMED UP by a visitor from Romania whom I met at a diplomatic party in Belgrade two months ago. He told of an American businessman being briefed by an Intourist guide outside a huge manufacturing plant near Moscow. Alongside the vast structure was a one-story building from which came the wheeze of an old flat bed printing press.

The American asked his guide what was being produced inside the two strangely paired buildings. The guide replied that in the big building elevators were being produced, in the tiny structure signs saying "Out Of Order" were being printed.

This is fair and accurate commentary. Drawing from Soviet records it can be disclosed that the number of Soviet workers doing repair work on machine tools is 3½ times as great as those producing new ones.

Electric motors, vital to any society, are undergoing repairs between 30 to 40 per cent of the time during the first year after delivery.

At any given time not less than 40 per cent of all vehicles in the Soviet Union are idle, awaiting repairs.

TYPICAL is the story of the Kungur Machinery Plant. Recently it received from the Minsk Transfer Machine Plant 24 pieces of costly complex equipment for use in the machining of turbo drill rotors and stators.

The cost of these automatic machines totaled more than two million rubles. But because of defects in major designing and engineering not a single one worked. The Minsk factory dispatched 45 technicians to Kungur to get the bugs out. Still they malfunctioned. As a result of its difficulties the Kungur operation was unable to produce spare parts for the oil drilling industry.

Yet, the Minsk Plant, having sent out 24 machines, received official praise for having filled its Socialist production norm (quota) resulting in special premium pay.

Thus, the Czechs, Poles, Romanians and Bulgarians search the West desperately for industrial equipment.

Typical of the Communist bloc distrust of the chaotic Soviet industrialism is the management policy at the largest auto plant in Czechoslovakia. It's in Mlada Boleslav and turns out 250,000 cars a year. But it's equipped with French Renault "transfer" machines. Italian and West German grinders and a combination of British equipment.

AS FOR the commercial aircraft industry, N. S. Khrushchev himself complained recently that Soviet airplane engines have a service life of 500 hours, compared with those in the West which go 2,200 to 2,500 hours.

So bad is their electronic and communication production that practically all Soviet TU-104 and IL-18 airliners are being outfitted with British made navigation equipment. Czech military aircraft are now using Western communications systems.

Nor is earthbound transportation better. The disjointed Soviet rail system, which has 79,320 miles of road bed compared with our 216,445 miles, uses 3.5 million primitively trained workers while we operate our lines with 750,000 men.

As for consumer goods, more than 60 per cent of the TV sets sold recently failed to work during the "guarantee" six months period.

SO BAD is shoe production, for example, that the warehouses are filled with 1½ billion rubles of standard cloth and leather shoes. No one wants to buy them because they're too heavy.

Not too long ago the Russian Ministry of Trade tested 16.5 million pieces of consumer goods at random. Full 47 per cent were either defective or substandard.

Equally defective are chemical plants, telephone dials, knit goods, radio receivers, refrigerators, washing machines — and their own relay broadcasting system loud speakers.

Obviously among the contests Mr. Khrushchev lost was the socialist - capitalist competition in which he threatened to bury us.

Down Through The Years

From The Review Files

THIRTY YEARS AGO—Richard Persohn and James Ellis were elected president and secretary, respectively, of the new Hi-Y Club at a meeting in the YMCA.

Mrs. Beatrice Silverman of Midland was taken into the Hillel Study Club.

TWENTY YEARS AGO—The Columbiana County budget for 1945 was set at $474,533.

Miss Susan Huston of Vine St. was chosen a member of the Madrigal Girls' Choral group at Miami University, Oxford.

TEN YEARS AGO — An afternoon circle of the WSCS of the Orchard Grove Methodist Church was organized, with Mrs. Frank Hopper acting chairman.

Mrs. Dorothy Smith, Mrs. Natalie Sharpnack and Miss Eleanor Jane Bennett reviewed their summer travels during a meeting of Alpha Iota Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma.

The Pigeon War

The war between cities and pigeons has spread to Munich.

Two hundred thousand of the city's star boarders are to be caught with big nets, put in cages and banished to a distant part of Bavaria. Since pigeons have proved extraordinarily adaptable over the ages, the Munich city fathers hope the exiled birds will learn to like the country as much as they like sidewalks and people.

Many cities would wish Munich good luck, but without conviction, the National Geographic Society says. Berlin, New York, Boston, Washington, Chicago, London, Paris and Moscow have learned that pigeons can withstand trapping, deportation, shooting, poisoning, scaring and all manner of campaigns. The birds multiply instead of decreasing.

People who happen to like pigeons enjoy their companionship and beauty. But the birds damage buildings, desecreate public monuments, foul sidewalks and streets, clog eaves and drainpipes. Their droppings can carry dangerous viruses.

Roger Maris of the Yankees this year had his second highest batting average in the majors. He hit .281. In 1960 he batted .283. He has been up eight years.

Surprising Turnabout

By David Lawrence

'Trigger Flexibility' Could Be New Slogan

President Johnson made a surprising statement to the American people last Sunday night but it attracted scant attention. Without consulting Congress or even the leaders of both parties, Mr. Johnson announced a decision involving the possible use of nuclear force against Red China or any other country possessing nuclear weapons which may threaten the security of non-nuclear nations. He said:

David Lawrence

"The nations that do not seek national nuclear weapons can be sure that if they need our strong support against some threat of nuclear blackmail, then they will have it."

A policy of such far-reaching significance was thus made by one man and proclaimed to the world. Whether this was an impulsive act or the result of high-level discussion has not been revealed. It certainly runs contrary to the spirit of what the President had said on Sept. 28 at Manchester, N. H., where he made two speeches.

IN THE FIRST, before the Weekly Newspaper Editors Association of New Hampshire, he declared:

"Our military strength is vital to our security and important to our influence. It cannot be used to compel and frighten all others into following our command. Nor can it build the lasting framework of enduring peace. The only consequence of such a policy would be constant conflict, rising hostility and deepening tension. . . .

"Force will not bring an end to the arms race. We cannot coerce others to negotiate. We cannot compel them to be reasonable and wise. It takes skill and patience and determination, and a search for areas of common interest. . . .

"In this nuclear age we have concern about the affairs of every continent. That concern does not give us the right or responsibility to order the affairs of all other nations. For example, two friendly nations, India and Pakistan, have been engaged in long, and often bitter, dispute over the area of Kashmir. We are always ready to help. Peaceful solution can mean much to the freedom of Asia. But the responsibility of settlement must remain — and should remain — with the two great nations involved."

IN THE SECOND speech, before Democratic leaders of the state, President Johnson discussed what Sen. Goldwater and others had suggested about "going north in Viet Nam" and launching a big offensive. Mr. Johnson said:

"As far as I'm concerned, I want to be very cautious and careful, and use it (an offensive) only as a last resort, when I start dropping bombs around that are likely to involve American boys in a war in Asia with 700 million Chinese.

"So just for the moment I have not thought that we were ready for American boys to do the fighting for Asian boys. . . .

"We think that losing 190 lives in the period that we have been out there (Viet Nam) is bad, but it is not like 190,000 that we might lose the first month if we escalated that war. So we are trying somehow to evolve a way, as we have in some other places, where the North Vietnamese and the Chinese Communists finally, after getting worn down, conclude that they will leave their neighbors alone, and if they do we will come home tomorrow."

In view of the President's earlier commitment, therefore, to a limited war in Viet Nam, about non-involvement in disputes between India and Pakistan, the sudden declaration that the United States would assist with its nuclear force any of the nations that might be threatened with attack by Red China is a startling development in American policy.

THE UNITED STATES, ever since the Eisenhower administration, has been a member of the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization, generally known as SEATO, but there is no explicit pledge on the part of the United States to render military aid.

This is something to be decided by the president and the Congress only after a particular contingency arises which might call for American assistance.

It's unlike the North Atlantic Treaty, which requires the United States to regard immediately an attack on any member of the alliance as being the same thing as an attack on the territory of the United States.

Mr. Johnson's declaration, however, of his intention to help all non-nuclear powers is a sweeping statement and presumably implies that nuclear force will be interposed in such a way as to deter or repel Red China or any other nation from attacking the countries which do not have nuclear power. This could, of course, "escalate" into a nuclear war.

Up to the time of the President's speech to the nation last Sunday, no intimation had been given that the United States was willing to use its nuclear power directly in support of any non-nuclear nation outside of NATO. "Trigger flexibility" could become the new slogan of diplomacy.

Why Children Fail

By Joseph Michalak

NEW YORK — "To a very great degree, school is a place where children learn to be stupid . . . more than by any other one thing, the extraordinary capacity for learning and intellectual growth (of a child's first three years) is destroyed by the process that we misname education."

Dr. Robert Maynard Hutchins? Dr. James B. Conant? No, John Holt.

Who's John Holt?

John Holt is merely an extraordinary ordinary teacher, lacking only the extended list of degrees and book credits of the Conants, the Hutchins and the other powerhouse critics of American education. He has one great advantage over them all: he took a full year out of his regular teaching career just to watch a class of 10-year-olds in action at the Colorado Rocky Mountain School.

HOLT SETS down his conclusions in a new book explaining "How Children Fail," essentially a series of memos to other teachers based on his observations.

"Most children in school fail," the first sentence of Holt's book says ingenuously. He says this despite the fact that about 60 per cent of them eventually get through high school.

"They complete their schooling," the author insists, "because we have agreed to push them up through the grades and out of the schools, whether they know anything or not."

Why do their fail? Because they are afraid, bored and confused.

"Afraid of failing, of disappointing or displeasing the many anxious adults around them, whose limitless hopes and expectations for them hang over their heads like a cloud.

"Bored because the things they are given and told to do in school are so trivial, so dull and make such limited and narrow demands on the wide spectrum of their intelligence, capabilities and talents.

"Confused because most of the torrent of words that pours over them in school makes little or no sense" — often flatly contradicting other things they have been told, and hardly ever having any relation to what they really know."

THE WORST of these, Holt says, is making them afraid of failure — thus afraid to gamble, to experiment and to try the difficult and the unknown. Along with this goes the destruction of the love for learning by encouraging them to work for "petty and contemptible" rewards — gold stars, or papers marked 100 and tacked to the wall, or A's on report cards, or honor rolls, dean's lists, or Phi Beta Kappa keys — "in short for the ignoble satisfaction of feeling that they are better than someone else."

HOLT IS CONFIDENT that the observers would find that school children — in terror of not succeeding — are master strategists at feigning learning while none really takes place.

A Shrine For America

If a proposal to make a national shrine of Ellis Island is adopted, either by an act of Congress or a presidential order, whichever seems more suitable, the American people will have the most meaningful symbol of their heritage ever offered. It will be even more meaningful than the Statue of Liberty nearby.

Ellis Island symbolizes the origin of every American who is not a pure-blooded American Indian. We live here together, struggling to preserve liberty in what once was a difficult land that today faces problems created by our ancestors' success.

Had they failed, there would be no problems. There would be no America. There would be no American dream. There would have been no pursuit of that dream by the millions who came here via Ellis Island and other ports of immigration.

There would be "no clashes of opinion, no hatreds, no struggles, no rancor, no squirming and wriggling for public office," as Abraham Lincoln once described it.

Candidates for public leadership would not be defaming one another in political campaigns. Hate vendors would be out of business; there would be no market for venom.

No one would pit class against class. No one could discriminate. There would be nothing to discriminate against, no classes to be pitted against each other.

There should be a shrine at Ellis Island. There should be reminders there of our origins elsewhere in this world and of the privileges here that never would have been found any other place.

We should visit the Ellis Island shrine often. We should gather public purses to send there on mercy missions all those among us who show by word and deed that they have forgotten their debt to America, the debt that can be repaid only by endless loyalty to the American dream . . . "that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable rights, that among these are Life, Liberty and the pursuit of Happiness."

Back To Collective Leadership?

A Communist party magazine says Nikita Khrushchev was removed from power in the Soviet Union because he became a personal leader, thereby making the mistake he condemned Joseph Stalin for making.

That was in February 1956 when Khrushchev and Anastas I. Mikoyan blasted Stalin for "the cult of the individual" and related how Communists lived in terror of a political despot. Khrushchev and Mikoyan said it never should happen again. Party leaders agreed. In the future, collective leadership would be the rule, they said.

So now the Soviet Union will return to collective leadership; that is the promise. But Communists in other countries are asking questions about the way Khrushchev was removed from office. He was no Stalin. He did not butcher his enemies.

As for returning to collective leadership, skeptics can ask when it ever existed. There can be no effectual collective leadership. Nothing significant can be accomplished by a committee. All a committee can do is discuss and propose.

Sooner or later, a chairman must take charge or the committee becomes useless. And the instant a chairman takes charge, that is the beginning of personal leadership — the cult of personality.

Soviet Union problems can be discussed by collective leadership.

Proposals for action can be offered by collective leadership.

But programs must be administered by individuals with power of decision.

If individuals are forbidden to exercise power of decision, there can be no effectual leadership. No wonder Communists in other countries are wondering what the party line is going to be.

Khrushchev demonstrated the absurdity of his own proposition, now turned against him. He was a strong individual but he was no Stalin. He was accused of many mistakes, but he was not guilty of slaughtering his political enemies.

That was what he hated in Stalin. That was why he and Mikoyan said in 1956 no man ever should be allowed to do such a thing again.

What Time Is It?

This weekend, 15 of the 31 states and parts of states that have been on Daylight Saving Time since last spring are returning to Standard Time. The others will tag along later.

The 15 states are doing this of their own volition. No law says they must go on or off Daylight Saving Time. Attempts to pass laws saying states and regions must stay on Standard Time do not exist, either.

Thanks to a misapplication of the doctrine of states' rights, the federal government cannot even require uniform time standards on interstate businesses like airlines, buses, railroads and communication companies.

The Transportation Association of America, which believes things could be better, has pointed to the example of a bus operating between Steubenville, Ohio, and Moundsville, W. Va. On a 35-mile stretch, it passed through seven time changes.

In the 1964 session of Congress, the Senate Commerce Committee approved a bill authorizing the Interstate Commerce Commission to impose uniform time standards on airlines, buses, railroads, communications companies. But the bill never had a chance. It was pigeonholed.

What time is it? If you're traveling, who knows?

Exhibit A At The Fair

New York World's Fair is being buttoned up for the winter, and the buttoners are making interim evaluations of the project.

One note of remorse is heard again and again—cost.

True, attendance lagged behind hopes. Would-be fair goers were scared off by a shortage of hotel rooms in the early summer, reports of exorbitant prices at the fair and fear of violence at the hands of lawless New Yorkers.

But the thing that hurt the fair management most was the exorbitant cost of constructing and operating the fair. Not only did it put a dent in profit expectations for the fair, itself, but in the prospects of exhibitors, who took it in the neck for everything they had to pay for in New York City.

Even if attendance had been up to the high expectations on which the fair's prospects were based, the cost factor would have been a heavy drawback. As it turned out—and partly because of high costs—attendance was a little more than 26 million compared with a predicted 40 million.

No one outside New York City can gain from what happened. The story is typical, not unique. Top-heavy costs are a burden on every enterprise. New York City just happens to be in sharper focus. Costs there are better known.

These are not only the legitimate, necessary costs but unnecessary and half-legitimate costs. They are burdens added to enterprise for no better reason than the ability of people in advantageous positions to pile them up for their own benefit.

The New York World's Fair, its managers predict, will pay out in its second year; there is no prospect of financial failure. There is only the prospect of growing remorse over runaway costs.

Cotton Corners

By Truman Twill

Dear Nephew: This is the homestretch for politics—and none too soon. We couldn't take more than another week of this.

"It's a heluva way to run a railroad," but isn't it marvellous how well it works! Where else can you find inefficiency turned into a national asset?

The efficient way to run government would be to appoint a screening committee to choose the best applicants for important government jobs. At the very least, we would make all applicants take examinations, the same as we do for relatively unimportant civil service jobs.

Instead, what do we do?

We throw up the jobs for grabs. Anyone with the itch can start grabbing.

We don't even go through the motions of picking the best people. We have no way of knowing who they are—no competitive examinations. And if we did know who they are, we would have no means of getting them elected.

I HAVE BEEN keeping track of government figures in our little community here at the Corners for a lifetime, and I cannot recall a single occasion when we chose the best man for the job. The best men weren't running. They had more important things to do. We settled for people with nothing more important to do.

Yet, the men we elected, by and large, turned out pretty well. Most of them rose to the occasion and outdid themselves. A few sank to the occasion and had to be disposed of with as much alacrity as the law allowed.

But out of it all, we have had fair-to-middling government. Looking at the big picture, I think we have had fair-to-middling government in this country because of the mediocrity of the applicants, not in spite of it.

SO HERE WE ARE, your aunt and I, with our sample ballots all marked and we are feeling sanguine about the whole thing. Among our local candidates there aren't more than two I'd put in charge of a vegetable stand on a back highway, but I'm sure all the winners will try hard and the losers will sink back into the obscurity from which they emerged to run for office.

We will get what we deserve, which is what we've been getting as long as I can remember. I'll take that back. We had a hot shot here some 30 years back. He could charm birds out of the trees.

He was smart, handsome, winsome and an operator. I never knew what happened to him when he got out of prison, where we put him when he showed his contempt for us mediocrities by mismanaging our funds.

Regards to the family.

Russians Build—And Then Repair

By Victor Riesel

Nikita Khrushchev, who succeeded only in burying himself, so disrupted Soviet industry and left it in such a creaking chaotic condition that virtually half of what it produces is defective.

Victor Riesel

Russia's biggest civilian business is the repair business — working on everything from TV sets, dial telephones, autos, huge automatic machinery, chemical plants, tractors and machine tools, to aircraft engines and submarines.

This can be reported authenticially from my own observations in Eastern Europe recently, from conversations with specialists and from a stirring and startling report from the Senate Internal Security subcommittee.

In all, the consensus is that the U.S.S.R. is on the verge of industrial bankruptcy, if not actually in it.

IT'S SUMMED UP by a visitor from Romania whom I met at a diplomatic party in Belgrade two months ago. He told of an American businessman being briefed by an Intourist guide outside a huge manufacturing plant near Moscow. Alongside the vast structure was a one-story building from which came the wheeze of an old flat bed printing press.

The American asked his guide what was being produced inside the two strangely paired buildings. The guide replied that in the big building elevators were being produced, in the tiny structure signs saying "Out Of Order" were being printed.

This is fair and accurate commentary. Drawing from Soviet records it can be disclosed that the number of Soviet workers doing repair work on machine tools is 3½ times as great as those producing new ones.

Electric motors, vital to any society, are undergoing repairs between 30 to 40 per cent of the time during the first year after delivery.

At any given time not less than 40 per cent of all vehicles in the Soviet Union are idle, awaiting repairs.

TYPICAL is the story of the Kungur Machinery Plant. Recently it received from the Minsk Transfer Machine Plant 24 pieces of costly complex equipment for use in the machining of turbo drill rotors and stators.

The cost of these automatic machines totaled more than two million rubles. But because of defects in major designing and engineering not a single one worked. The Minsk factory dispatched 45 technicians to Kungur to get the bugs out. Still they malfunctioned. As a result of its difficulties the Kungur operation was unable to produce spare parts for the oil drilling industry.

Yet, the Minsk Plant, having sent out 24 machines, received official praise for having filled its Socialist production norm (quota) resulting in special premium pay.

Thus, the Czechs, Poles, Romanians and Bulgarians search the West desperately for industrial equipment.

Typical of the Communist bloc distrust of the chaotic Soviet industrialism is the management policy at the largest auto plant in Czechoslovakia. It's in Mlada Boleslav and turns out 250,000 cars a year. But it's equipped with French Renault "transfer" machines. Italian and West German grinders and a combination of British equipment.

AS FOR the commercial aircraft industry, N. S. Khrushchev himself complained recently that Soviet airplane engines have a service life of 500 hours, compared with those in the West which go 2,200 to 2,500 hours.

So bad is their electronic and communication production that practically all Soviet TU-104 and IL-18 airliners are being outfitted with British made navigation equipment. Czech military aircraft are now using Western communications systems.

Nor is earthbound transportation better. The disjointed Soviet rail system, which has 79,320 miles of road bed compared with our 216,445 miles, uses 3.5 million primitively trained workers while we operate our lines with 750,000 men.

As for consumer goods, more than 60 per cent of the TV sets sold recently failed to work during the "guarantee" six months period.

-:-

SO BAD is shoe production, for example, that the warehouses are filled with 1½ billion rubles of standard cloth and leather shoes. No one wants to buy them because they're too heavy.

Not too long ago the Russian Ministry of Trade tested 16.5 million pieces of consumer goods at random. Full 47 per cent were either defective or substandard.

Equally defective are chemical plants, telephone dials, knit goods, radio receivers, refrigerators, washing machines — and their own relay broadcasting system loud speakers.

Obviously among the contests Mr. Khrushchev lost was the socialist - capitalist competition in which he threatened to bury us.

Down Through The Years

From The Review Files

THIRTY YEARS AGO—Richard Persohn and James Ellis were elected president and secretary, respectively, of the new Hi-Y Club at a meeting in the YMCA.

Mrs. Beatrice Silverman of Midland was taken into the Hillel Study Club.

TWENTY YEARS AGO—The Columbiana County budget for 1945 was set at $474,533.

Miss Susan Huston of Vine St. was chosen a member of the Madrigal Girls' Choral group at Miami University, Oxford.

TEN YEARS AGO — An afternoon circle of the WSCS of the Orchard Grove Methodist Church was organized, with Mrs. Frank Hopper acting chairman.

Mrs. Dorothy Smith, Mrs. Natalie Sharpnack and Miss Eleanor Jane Bennett reviewed their summer travels during a meeting of Alpha Iota Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma.

The Pigeon War

The war between cities and pigeons has spread to Munich.

Two hundred thousand of the city's star boarders are to be caught with big nets, put in cages and banished to a distant part of Bavaria. Since pigeons have proved extraordinarily adaptable over the ages, the Munich city fathers hope the exiled birds will learn to like the country as much as they like sidewalks and people.

Many cities would wish Munich good luck, but without conviction, the National Geographic Society says. Berlin, New York, Boston, Washington, Chicago, London, Paris and Moscow have learned that pigeons can withstand trapping, deportation, shooting, poisoning, scaring and all manner of campaigns. The birds multiply instead of decreasing.

People who happen to like pigeons enjoy their companionship and beauty. But the birds damage buildings, desecreate public monuments, foul sidewalks and streets, clog eaves and drainpipes. Their droppings can carry dangerous viruses.

Roger Maris of the Yankees this year had his second highest batting average in the majors. He hit .281. In 1960 he batted .283. He has been up eight years.

Surprising Turnabout

By David Lawrence

'Trigger Flexibility' Could Be New Slogan

President Johnson made a surprising statement to the American people last Sunday night but it attracted scant attention. Without consulting Congress or even the leaders of both parties, Mr. Johnson announced a decision involving the possible use of nuclear force against Red China or any other country possessing nuclear weapons which may threaten the security of non-nuclear nations. He said:

David Lawrence

"The nations that do not seek national nuclear weapons can be sure that if they need our strong support against some threat of nuclear blackmail, then they will have it."

A policy of such far-reaching significance was thus made by one man and proclaimed to the world. Whether this was an impulsive act or the result of high-level discussion has not been revealed. It certainly runs contrary to the spirit of what the President had said on Sept. 28 at Manchester, N. H., where he made two speeches.

IN THE FIRST, before the Weekly Newspaper Editors Association of New Hampshire, he declared:

"Our military strength is vital to our security and important to our influence. It cannot be used to compel and frighten all others into following our command. Nor can it build the lasting framework of enduring peace. The only consequence of such a policy would be constant conflict, rising hostility and deepening tension. . . .

"Force will not bring an end to the arms race. We cannot coerce others to negotiate. We cannot compel them to be reasonable and wise. It takes skill and patience and determination, and a search for areas of common interest. . . .

"In this nuclear age we have concern about the affairs of every continent. That concern does not give us the right or responsibility to order the affairs of all other nations. For example, two friendly nations, India and Pakistan, have been engaged in long, and often bitter, dispute over the area of Kashmir. We are always ready to help. Peaceful solution can mean much to the freedom of Asia. But the responsibility of settlement must remain — and should remain — with the two great nations involved."

IN THE SECOND speech, before Democratic leaders of the state, President Johnson discussed what Sen. Goldwater and others had suggested about "going north in Viet Nam" and launching a big offensive. Mr. Johnson said:

"As far as I'm concerned, I want to be very cautious and careful, and use it (an offensive) only as a last resort, when I start dropping bombs around that are likely to involve American boys in a war in Asia with 700 million Chinese.

"So just for the moment I have not thought that we were ready for American boys to do the fighting for Asian boys. . . .

"We think that losing 190 lives in the period that we have been out there (Viet Nam) is bad, but it is not like 190,000 that we might lose the first month if we escalated that war. So we are trying somehow to evolve a way, as we have in some other places, where the North Vietnamese and the Chinese Communists finally, after getting worn down, conclude that they will leave their neighbors alone, and if they do we will come home tomorrow."

In view of the President's earlier commitment, therefore, to a limited war in Viet Nam, about non-involvement in disputes between India and Pakistan, the sudden declaration that the United States would assist with its nuclear force any of the nations that might be threatened with attack by Red China is a startling development in American policy.

THE UNITED STATES, ever since the Eisenhower administration, has been a member of the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization, generally known as SEATO, but there is no explicit pledge on the part of the United States to render military aid.

This is something to be decided by the president and the Congress only after a particular contingency arises which might call for American assistance.

It's unlike the North Atlantic Treaty, which requires the United States to regard immediately an attack on any member of the alliance as being the same thing as an attack on the territory of the United States.

Mr. Johnson's declaration, however, of his intention to help all non-nuclear powers is a sweeping statement and presumably implies that nuclear force will be interposed in such a way as to deter or repel Red China or any other nation from attacking the countries which do not have nuclear power. This could, of course, "escalate" into a nuclear war.

Up to the time of the President's speech to the nation last Sunday, no intimation had been given that the United States was willing to use its nuclear power directly in support of any non-nuclear nation outside of NATO. "Trigger flexibility" could become the new slogan of diplomacy.

'Be Patient, Firm'

Communist Threat Aired By Rep. Hays At Kiwanis

A policy of firmness and patience is best for the United States in relations with the Communist world, Rep. Wayne L. Hays told members of the Kiwanis Club Thursday at the weekly luncheon meeting.

Hays, 18th District congressman, listed three pieces of "bad news" which occurred last week for the nation. Fifty-four heard his talk at the Travelers Hotel.

—:—

HE REFERRED to the Labour Party victory in Great Britain, the change in leadership in Russia and the testing of an atomic device in Red China.

The congressman said he had friends in the Labour Party, but felt the party policies could set Britain back 50 years.

As for Khrushchev's removal from office, Hays said the former premier was certainly no kindly grandpa—"he was the one who put missiles into Cuba two years ago" — but Khrushchev faced up to the realities of the atomic era and was not about to start war.

"I don't know about the new leaders," he declared.

Hays spoke of the eternal power struggle in the Kremlin, and said he doubted if Brezhnev and Kosygin would be heading the nation in two years under the present setup.

"How was Khrushchev, a dictator and supposedly in control of things, ousted?" Hays asked. "No one in the U.S. knows at present."

"But we do know the other leaders were dissatisfied with his growing split with Red China, the failure of the agricultural program and other matters in the Communistic world."

—:—

HAYS SAID there is every indication Moscow will now seek closer relations with Red China. "The Russian leaders are having more nightmares about China, with its growing millions, its new claims on Russian territory and its atomic weapon program, than they are about the United States."

"As for the agriculture program, Khrushchev was not to blame — rather, it is a failure of the whole communistic philosophy," he stated. "Show me, if you can, one Red nation in which the collective farm program has been a success."

He said the Russians have been able to produce sophisticated space vehicles more powerful than those of the United States only because their economy has concentrated upon the space program and heavy industry for armament.

"They are not producing millions of cars, hundreds of thousands of refrigerators, television sets or the other consumer goods for the people."

HAYS EARLIER referred to the problems faced by the State Department and one idea he proposed and which has been adopted.

The congressman, chairman of the State Department subcommittee of the House, said a bill had been proposed two years ago to create a special school for the training of State Department personnel, a proposal he suggested.

"It would have been a type of 'West Point' for the department, a school which would have crammed all the young men into the same mold," he said.

"I believe the career people going into state should have originality, be varied with different viewpoints and not be stifled in thinking in relationships with the many nations in the world."

Hays said he proposed the department begin recruiting its personnel from the universities of the nation at an earlier time, and, questioned how to implement this program further, suggested overseas foreign service officers be brought back to take university courses and, at the same time, teach some classes to the students.

The congressman said he was pleased to learn Thursday the State Department plans to bring home 20 foreign service officers next year in such a program.

—:—

HE SAID the time involved in reaching such a decision shows the difficulty in developing programs in the huge federal bureaucracy and with the tremendous problems faced.

"The State Department makes mistakes, but on the whole, in dealing with 116 foreign nations and with the huge organization, the department is doing a considerable job."

The American Legion, he said, has been a sharp critic of the department and, at the invitation of Secretary Dean Rusk, formed a committee of five ex-national commanders to study the entire department and its policies.

Hays said the group, after several months, reported back a few recommendations, saying the great percentage of department employes were dedicated and hardworking people.

Hays condemned the practice of some Congressmen of utilizing classified information to gain publicity.

He said he attended a briefing session at Washington Tuesday at which the atomic test of the Chinese was discussed in a highly confidential session from which various aides were removed.

"I was horrified to learn yesterday Rep. Harris McDowell of New Jersey had reported to news media the method by which the U.S. had garnered its information about the tests — through space satellite photographs."

—:—

"WE WERE probably driving the Reds crazy about how we knew so much about the test, and he gave them the right answer," Hays said. "It was then I made the statement to the press that with enemies like Rep. McDowell—and this isn't a question of politics, for he is also a Democrat—the Red Chinese don't need friends."

"I would love to go back to the pre-atomic bomb era, but we can't. We have to face this problem and work together."

Hays said he was concerned about how some people are taking the idea of nuclear war so casually.

"I don't think we should back down or tremble at threats to our security — we didn't in Cuba or in the Tonkin Gulf incidents."

"But we can't consider nuclear war as a prime answer to our international problems. We have to work on negotiations, with firmness on one hand and with patience on the other."

Hays was introduced by Don R. Gosney, Columbiana County Democrat chairman.

Six members from the Lisbon Kiwanis Club attended for an inter-club meeting. Norman Nicely, president, was in charge.

Police Shot At Purse Snatcher

Shots Fired In Boston Not Aimed At Humphrey

BOSTON (AP) — A motorcycle policeman fired three shots at a purse snatcher just outside a hotel where Democratic vice presidential nominee Hubert H. Humphrey was staying early today.

The shots, within a few hundred feet of the Minnesota senator's eighth floor suite at the Statler Hilton, touched off brief consternation there may have been an assassination attempt being made on Humphrey.

Boston police explained, however, that the motorcycle officer had fired three times as the second of two young handbag thieves raced from the hotel in the Back Bay section.

The other youth, 17 years old, was apprehended in the hotel lobby minutes after the two allegedly stole a purse from an employes' cloakroom. The second youth escaped in the crowd outside despite the shots.

Humphrey, who spent half a dozen hours in Boston on a campaign swing into New England, left the hotel for Logan Airport at 12:20 a.m., just 10 minutes after the shooting. It was not known whether he had heard the shots.

Humphrey left Boston about half an hour later for Washington, where he was to attend a memorial service for the late President Herbert Hoover today.

Earlier Humphrey addressed a meeting of the Associated Industries of Massachusetts, a predominantly Republican group.

Humphrey told the polite but unenthusiastic business group that Sen. Barry Goldwater's nomination for the presidency by the Republican party "produced some concern not only in political circles in the United States and among the top financiers and industrialists of America, but also in the political and financial circles of Europe, Asia and Latin America."

Humphrey said the Johnson administration "has exercised prudent and responsible fiscal and monetary policies" and noted that "in 100 years, only two periods of peacetime business expansion have lasted more than three years. Today we are in the fourth year of expansion."

Judge Banishes Niles Defendant, Suspends Fines

Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff today suspended fines and costs totaling $50 imposed on a Niles resident on condition the defendant leave East Liverpool immediately.

George W. Munroe, 53, pleaded guilty to an intoxication charge filed under the City Code, on which he was fined $10 and costs, and another count of malicious destruction of property, on which he was penalized $25 and costs.

Police said Munroe was taken into custody at 11:11 Thursday night in the lobby of the Travelers Hotel. When he refused to accompany the officers, he was carried bodily out of the hotel and also was carried from a cruiser into the jail, police said.

About an hour and a half later, Munroe was charged with malicious destruction of property after he broke two light fixtures in the jail, officers said. Munroe told the judge he arrived in East Liverpool yesterday with a bus ticket that will take him on to Steubenville.

The man said he has not worked regularly since 1947. The judge said he suspended the fines rather than hold Munroe to serve out the penalties "at the expense of the taxpayers."

Man In Wrecked Truck Steals Car Of 'Samaritan'

BEAVER — Area police today were seeking a truck thief who victimized a would - be "Good Samaritan" on Route 18 early this morning by stealing his auto.

John Fisanich of Rochester told Monaca police he was driving along Route 18 in southern Potter Township when he saw a pickup truck overturned on the highway.

Fisanich said he stopped and began to walk around the wrecked vehicle planning to assist any victim.

Suddenly, the driver in the truck kicked out a window, jumped out and ran to Fisanich's car, driving away and leaving him in the road.

Police said the truck has been identified as one stolen from New Cumberland, carrying steel strip and tools which are missing. The truck is a total loss, police said.

Officers said Fisanich's car—a 1959 two-tone blue Ford—has not been located yet.

Hancock County sheriff's deputies said the truck is owned by Ed Phillips of New Cumberland and it was stolen in the county seat between 8 and midnight Thursday. The cargo was six-inch strips of stainless steel valued at $300, and there were also small handtools in the vehicle, deputies said.

Bailey Asks 'Coattail' Ride Into Congress

WEIRTON — "Johnson and Humphrey are going to win, so there's no use sending a Republican from the 1st Congressional District to Washington, it won't do any good; send me."

That was the appeal of John (Larry) Bailey, 29, of Weston at a rally of the Hancock County Democratic Women's Club Thursday night in the Weirton VFW Hall.

Several hundred persons attended to hear the address by the Democratic candidate for 1st District congressman.

HE SAID the time involved in reaching such a decision shows the difficulty in developing programs in the huge federal bureaucracy and with the tremendous problems faced.

"The State Department makes mistakes, but on the whole, in dealing with 116 foreign nations and with the huge organization, the department is doing a considerable job."

The American Legion, he said, has been a sharp critic of the department and, at the invitation of Secretary Dean Rusk, formed a committee of five ex-national commanders to study the entire department and its policies.

Hays said the group, after several months, reported back a few recommendations, saying the great percentage of department employes were dedicated and hardworking people.

Hays condemned the practice of some Congressmen of utilizing classified information to gain publicity.

He said he attended a briefing session at Washington Tuesday at which the atomic test of the Chinese was discussed in a highly confidential session from which various aides were removed.

"I was horrified to learn yesterday Rep. Harris McDowell of New Jersey had reported to news media the method by which the U.S. had garnered its information about the tests — through space satellite photographs."

—:—

"WE WERE probably driving the Reds crazy about how we knew so much about the test, and he gave them the right answer," Hays said. "It was then I made the statement to the press that with enemies like Rep. McDowell—and this isn't a question of politics, for he is also a Democrat—the Red Chinese don't need friends."

"I would love to go back to the pre-atomic bomb era, but we can't. We have to face this problem and work together."

Hays said he was concerned about how some people are taking the idea of nuclear war so casually.

"I don't think we should back down or tremble at threats to our security — we didn't in Cuba or in the Tonkin Gulf incidents."

"But we can't consider nuclear war as a prime answer to our international problems. We have to work on negotiations, with firmness on one hand and with patience on the other."

Hays was introduced by Don R. Gosney, Columbiana County Democrat chairman.

Six members from the Lisbon Kiwanis Club attended for an inter-club meeting. Norman Nicely, president, was in charge.

Police Shot At Purse Snatcher

Shots Fired In Boston Not Aimed At Humphrey

BOSTON (AP) — A motorcycle policeman fired three shots at a purse snatcher just outside a hotel where Democratic vice presidential nominee Hubert H. Humphrey was staying early today.

The shots, within a few hundred feet of the Minnesota senator's eighth floor suite at the Statler Hilton, touched off brief consternation there may have been an assassination attempt being made on Humphrey.

Boston police explained, however, that the motorcycle officer had fired three times as the second of two young handbag thieves raced from the hotel in the Back Bay section.

The other youth, 17 years old, was apprehended in the hotel lobby minutes after the two allegedly stole a purse from an employes' cloakroom. The second youth escaped in the crowd outside despite the shots.

Humphrey, who spent half a dozen hours in Boston on a campaign swing into New England, left the hotel for Logan Airport at 12:20 a.m., just 10 minutes after the shooting. It was not known whether he had heard the shots.

Humphrey left Boston about half an hour later for Washington, where he was to attend a memorial service for the late President Herbert Hoover today.

Earlier Humphrey addressed a meeting of the Associated Industries of Massachusetts, a predominantly Republican group.

Humphrey told the polite but unenthusiastic business group that Sen. Barry Goldwater's nomination for the presidency by the Republican party "produced some concern not only in political circles in the United States and among the top financiers and industrialists of America, but also in the political and financial circles of Europe, Asia and Latin America."

Humphrey said the Johnson administration "has exercised prudent and responsible fiscal and monetary policies" and noted that "in 100 years, only two periods of peacetime business expansion have lasted more than three years. Today we are in the fourth year of expansion."

Those present were unable to decide on a date for the annual meeting.

The Fair Board's next meeting will be announced later. Ben Weingart of Leetonia R. D., president, presided.

Meeting Attracts 25 2nd Grade Teachers

LISBON — Approximately 25 second grade teachers in the four county school districts — Beaver, Fairfield - Waterford, Southern and United Local — attended workshop Thursday at Rogers School.

Representatives of textbook publishers discussed various phases of teaching.

The third grade teacher's workshop for the same schools will be held Tuesday at New Waterford School.

Judge Banishes Niles Defendant, Suspends Fines

Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff today suspended fines and costs totaling $50 imposed on a Niles resident on condition the defendant leave East Liverpool immediately.

George W. Munroe, 53, pleaded guilty to an intoxication charge filed under the City Code, on which he was fined $10 and costs, and another count of malicious destruction of property, on which he was penalized $25 and costs.

Police said Munroe was taken into custody at 11:11 Thursday night in the lobby of the Travelers Hotel. When he refused to accompany the officers, he was carried bodily out of the hotel and also was carried from a cruiser into the jail, police said.

About an hour and a half later, Munroe was charged with malicious destruction of property after he broke two light fixtures in the jail, officers said. Munroe told the judge he arrived in East Liverpool yesterday with a bus ticket that will take him on to Steubenville.

The man said he has not worked regularly since 1947. The judge said he suspended the fines rather than hold Munroe to serve out the penalties "at the expense of the taxpayers."

Man In Wrecked Truck Steals Car Of 'Samaritan'

BEAVER — Area police today were seeking a truck thief who victimized a would - be "Good Samaritan" on Route 18 early this morning by stealing his auto.

John Fisanich of Rochester told Monaca police he was driving along Route 18 in southern Potter Township when he saw a pickup truck overturned on the highway.

Fisanich said he stopped and began to walk around the wrecked vehicle planning to assist any victim.

Suddenly, the driver in the truck kicked out a window, jumped out and ran to Fisanich's car, driving away and leaving him in the road.

Police said the truck has been identified as one stolen from New Cumberland, carrying steel strip and tools which are missing. The truck is a total loss, police said.

Officers said Fisanich's car—a 1959 two-tone blue Ford—has not been located yet.

Hancock County sheriff's deputies said the truck is owned by Ed Phillips of New Cumberland and it was stolen in the county seat between 8 and midnight Thursday. The cargo was six-inch strips of stainless steel valued at $300, and there were also small handtools in the vehicle, deputies said.

WEIRTON — "Johnson and Humphrey are going to win, so there's no use sending a Republican from the 1st Congressional District to Washington, it won't do any good; send me."

Several hundred persons attended to hear the address by the Democratic candidate for 1st District congressman.

Picture Has Disappeared

Khrushchev Has Become Unperson In Soviet Union

By The Associated Press

For a week now there has been no public indication in the nation he long dominated that such a man ever existed.

His picture has disappeared from public places. His books are no longer heaped in display in stores.

The nearest that the men who shoved him aside have come to admitting there ever was a Khrushchev is attacks on leadership failures obviously attributed to him.

Criticism of the "cult of personality" used to mean Stalin. Now it means Khrushchev.

The attacks may soon become more direct, naming Khrushchev and attributing all sorts of sins to him. But, for the moment, he has been dropped down the memory hole.

That was the term George Orwell used in his book "1984" for the incinerator that destroyed records. When policy reasons in Orwell's imaginary state dictated that a person should not have existed, all references to him were dropped down the memory hole. Histories referring to him went that way and so did current material. He became an unperson.

There are no signs that the books are being destroyed here. That would be difficult.

Leonid I. Brezhnev, the new first secretary of the Soviet Communist party, and Alexei N. Kosygin, the new premier, have pledged to carry on such Khrushchev policies as peaceful coexistence and improvement of living standards. They referred to party meetings over the last eight years.

The policy positions of those meetings were set forth in speeches by Khrushchev. That may be the reason his books, collections of his speeches, are still available on a somewhat surreptitious basis.

The tide also is going out for Khrushchev's role in World War II.

Before he achieved power in the four years after Stalin died, Khrushchev was credited with only a small wartime part. In recent years he has loomed large in histories and anniversary articles, particularly on fighting in the Ukraine, where he was long the party boss.

The 20th anniversary of the liberation of the Ukraine from the Nazi armies would have been an occasion for lavish praise of Khrushchev's role. Instead, articles on it appearing after Khrushchev's ouster ignored him.

Jury To Begin Study In Car Death Charge

LISBON — A Common Pleas Court jury was to begin deliberations today in the case of William Hibbs, 22, of East Palestine, charged with second degree manslaughter in the death of William Bolam, 19, also of East Palestine, in a two-car collision May 16 on Route 14. The victim was a passenger.

Hibbs, in cross - examination Thursday, asserted that Mr. Bolam was climbing from the back seat to the front seat and either grasped the steering wheel or placed his arm through it, causing the car to veer left of center.

Hibbs told the jury he did everything possible to steer his car back into the proper lane, but the oncoming car struck the rear of his car. Carolyn Boyle, 25, of East Liverpool was the driver of the other car. The case began Monday and recessed Tuesday, resuming Wednesday.

Old-fashioned cooks used to use metal tubes for making pastry horns; some modern cooks substitute clothes pins for the tubes. If you try this, choose wooden pins that are not the spring type.

Senior Citizens' Officers Elected

Jack Barrett was elected president of the Senior Citizens Group at a meeting Thursday afternoon at the Parish Hall of St. Stephen's Episcopal Church. He succeeds Charles Pritchett, who presided.

Other officers named include Olie Campbell, vice president; Mrs. Maude Logan, recording secretary; Mrs. Lillian McKeever, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. Edna Meanor, treasurer.

The chorus, under the direction of Mrs. Annie Carr, sang several selections. Group singing was also featured. Members recited the Lord's Prayer in unison, followed with the salute to the flag.

Two new members were introduced.

The next meeting will be Thursday afternoon.

Prison Trainees

LAGRANGE, Ky. (AP) — There isn't much room to practice their skill, yet some prisoners at the state reformatory at LaGrange are learning to handle the big, over-the-road trucks. The Teamsters Union and trucking firms joined in the venture to teach a trade to men about to be released from prison.

Picture Has Disappeared

Khrushchev Has Become Unperson In Soviet Union

By The Associated Press

For a week now there has been no public indication in the nation he long dominated that such a man ever existed.

His picture has disappeared from public places. His books are no longer heaped in display in stores.

The nearest that the men who shoved him aside have come to admitting there ever was a Khrushchev is attacks on leadership failures obviously attributed to him.

Criticism of the "cult of personality" used to mean Stalin. Now it means Khrushchev.

The attacks may soon become more direct, naming Khrushchev and attributing all sorts of sins to him. But, for the moment, he has been dropped down the memory hole.

That was the term George Orwell used in his book "1984" for the incinerator that destroyed records. When policy reasons in Orwell's imaginary state dictated that a person should not have existed, all references to him were dropped down the memory hole. Histories referring to him went that way and so did current material. He became an unperson.

There are no signs that the books are being destroyed here. That would be difficult.

Leonid I. Brezhnev, the new first secretary of the Soviet Communist party, and Alexei N. Kosygin, the new premier, have pledged to carry on such Khrushchev policies as peaceful coexistence and improvement of living standards. They referred to party meetings over the last eight years.

The policy positions of those meetings were set forth in speeches by Khrushchev. That may be the reason his books, collections of his speeches, are still available on a somewhat surreptitious basis.

The tide also is going out for Khrushchev's role in World War II.

Before he achieved power in the four years after Stalin died, Khrushchev was credited with only a small wartime part. In recent years he has loomed large in histories and anniversary articles, particularly on fighting in the Ukraine, where he was long the party boss.

The 20th anniversary of the liberation of the Ukraine from the Nazi armies would have been an occasion for lavish praise of Khrushchev's role. Instead, articles on it appearing after Khrushchev's ouster ignored him.

Jury To Begin Study In Car Death Charge

LISBON — A Common Pleas Court jury was to begin deliberations today in the case of William Hibbs, 22, of East Palestine, charged with second degree manslaughter in the death of William Bolam, 19, also of East Palestine, in a two-car collision May 16 on Route 14. The victim was a passenger.

Hibbs, in cross - examination Thursday, asserted that Mr. Bolam was climbing from the back seat to the front seat and either grasped the steering wheel or placed his arm through it, causing the car to veer left of center.

Hibbs told the jury he did everything possible to steer his car back into the proper lane, but the oncoming car struck the rear of his car. Carolyn Boyle, 25, of East Liverpool was the driver of the other car. The case began Monday and recessed Tuesday, resuming Wednesday.

Old-fashioned cooks used to use metal tubes for making pastry horns; some modern cooks substitute clothes pins for the tubes. If you try this, choose wooden pins that are not the spring type.

Senior Citizens' Officers Elected

Jack Barrett was elected president of the Senior Citizens Group at a meeting Thursday afternoon at the Parish Hall of St. Stephen's Episcopal Church. He succeeds Charles Pritchett, who presided.

Other officers named include Olie Campbell, vice president; Mrs. Maude Logan, recording secretary; Mrs. Lillian McKeever, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. Edna Meanor, treasurer.

The chorus, under the direction of Mrs. Annie Carr, sang several selections. Group singing was also featured. Members recited the Lord's Prayer in unison, followed with the salute to the flag.

Two new members were introduced.

The next meeting will be Thursday afternoon.

Miss Carol Eileen Balint, Robert J. Lancos Are Wed

MRS. R. J. LANCOS
Her Nuptial Held In Midland.

Miss Carol Eleen Balint, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Novak, 1022 Beaver Ave., Midland, became the bride of Robert J. Lancos, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Lancos of Clinton, at a Nuptial Mass in the Midland Presentation Catholic Church Saturday at 12:30 o'clock.

Fr. John Sabovik, assistant pastor, celebrated the Mass before an altar decorated with arrangements of mums, gladioli and ferns. Mrs. James O'Reilly of East Liverpool was organist for the wedding music and she and her husband were soloists. Arrangements of daisies and mums marked the pews.

The bride was given in marriage by her step-father. She wore a full-length gown of white silk taffeta, styled with a round scalloped neckline trimmed with tiny seed pearls, and long tapering sleeves in the fitted bodice. Lace-effect embroidery enhanced the bodice and front of the bouffant skirt which ended in a chapel train.

A double-crown of seed pearls and crystals held her double-illusion elbow-length veil. She carried a cascade of orchids and stephanotis. Her only jewelry was a strand of pearls. She observed the familiar wedding traditions.

Miss Lenore Balint, sister of the bride, was maid of honor and bridesmaids were Miss Stella Ordich, Miss Diane Morris and Mrs. Gloria Rardin. They were attired in floor-length raspberry ice gowns of silk taffeta, fashioned wtih long sleeves, scoop necklines and bell - shaped skirts, featuring petal-type bows at the back waist.

The headpieces matched their gowns and featured brief illusion veils. Cascades of roses to match their gowns, and white carnations, centered with white gardenias, were carried by the attendants. The bride presented her attendants strands of pearls.

Candice Chapman, niece of the bride, was flower girl and was attired identically to the other attendants and carried a basket of red roses and carnations.

The bride's mother chose a three-piece knit suit of peacock blue with brown accessories and the bridegroom's mother wore a two-piece silver beige brocade suit with royal blue accessories. Both wore corsages of white carnations and pink rosebuds.

The bridegroom's grandmothers, Mrs. Mary Yurick of Clinton and Mrs. Anna Lancos of Aiquippa, wore corsages of white carnations and pink rosebuds.

Paul Lancos Jr., brother of the bridegroom, was best man. Ushers were Don McMichael, John Johnson and Wayne Rardin, James Kulcyk, cousin of the bridegroom, was ringbearer.

A dinner and reception for 400 guests was held in the Midland Serbian National Home. The bridal table was highlighted with streamers of smilax and clusters of draped pink netting and two three-branch silver candelabras. To the side was a table centered with a four-tier wedding cake topped with a miniature bridal couple. White streamers and arrangements of baby breath and pink ruffle netting completed the setting.

The bride is a graduate of Midland High School and is employed at the Midland First National Bank. Her husband is a graduate of South Side High School and attended Youngstown University. He works at the Crucible Steel Co.

Following a honeymoon to Canada, New York City and Niagara Falls the newlyweds will reside in the Midland Apartments.

'Hot Line'

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★

Who's On Moscow End Now?

MOSCOW (AP) — Who's on Moscow's end of the hot line now? Whose finger is on the nuclear rocket button?

Until Nikita Khrushchev's unexpected ouster last week, the answer to both questions was simple — and the same. Now it's more complicated.

If President Johnson decides to have a talk on his direct line to the Kremlin, he presumably would get Alexei N. Kosygin. As premier, Kosygin heads the Soviet government.

But such significant things as the lineup of portraits of Soviet leaders displayed in Moscow show that Leonid I. Brezhnev is the top man now. He took over Khrushchev's job as Communist party first secretary.

In the last 40 years of Communist rule, the party secretary has always been top man; he has been premier only 18 of those years. The premier the rest of the time has been a technician.

This might not be much of a problem for Johnson since the hot line is a teletype circuit, not a telephone. Talking to two people on the phone at once might be confusing, but an agreed message could be put on the teletype from Moscow.

The finger-on-the-button question gets more involved due to the vagueness of the Soviet situation.

It does not designate a peacetime commander in chief for Soviet military forces as Johnson is commander in chief of the American military establishment.

Under the Soviet constitution the Presidium of the Supreme Soviet, which declares war and concludes peace, is presumably the top commander. But the Presidium has 33 members, which is a bit too many fingers for one button.

Lacking an officially proclaimed commander in chief, Premier Kosygin might seem to be the man. But his portrait is second, and what No. 1 man would want to turn over the decision on massive devastation to his deputy?

Many non-Communist observers of the Soviet scene have felt the system naturally gravitates toward one-man rule.

If the trend continues, Brezhnev will follow the example of Stalin and Khrushchev and add the premiership to the party leadership, or some other man will move in and ultimately take both jobs.

Mrs. Steve Hazy, church service chairman, announced that Mrs. Homer Paul will head the altar care committee for November, assisted by Mrs. Lee Albacker, Mrs. Hazy and Miss Shelley Paul.

Mrs. Paul, presdent, announced plans for the congregational dinner to be held tonight in the church hall.

Mrs. Robert Cowan, thankoffering chairman, reminded members that the next meeting, Nov. 17, will be the Thank-Offering service. The program will be presented by Mrs. Jack Peck and Mrs. William Stiblo. Mrs. C. L. Defenbaugh will lead devotions.

Sofa Destroyed As Blaze Strikes North Side Home

Fire apparently started by a cigarette destroyed a sofa and damaged the floor and walls in the livingroom of a North Side home Thursday at 5:07 p.m., firemen reported.

The blaze brkoe out in a home at 1729 Smithfield St. occupied by Mrs. Lois Thomas and her children. Mrs. Thomas was absent at the time, returning a daughter after a stay at City Hospital.

Firemen were summoned by Mrs. Jack Talbott, 1810 Smithfield St. Mrs. Talbott's youngsters first noted the blaze. They told their mother there was "smoke coming out of the Thomas house." About the same time, Mrs. Thomas arrived home, noted the smoke and asked Mrs. Talbott to summon firemen.

Firemen said the blaze apparently started from a cigarette which had been left in an ashtray on the sofa. There also was damage to the floor and walls of the livingroom and smoke and heat damage in other parts of the home. Two trucks and an emergency car responded to the alarm, returning to the station at 5:35.

NEW YORK (AP) — The three teen - age boys who stopped a man on a Brooklyn street and tried to sell him a watch didn't recognize him as the victim they had robbed of the timepiece 10 days before, police said. But the victim, Jose Isla, recognized the trio, and when a friend passed by, Isla asked him in Spanish to call police. THE NEW BORON

a major advance in petroleum technology

Already Ohioans have driven more than

A BILLION MILES

on this great gasoline...

a new Sohio sales record for this period

Read what's new in The New Boron... why it's setting new sales records... and why you should start using it now.

The New Boron is the result of intensive work by Sohio petroleum scientists and engineers. Pictured here is one of Sohio's two laboratories for research and development.

OWNERS of 1963, '64 and '65 cars in particular are using The New Boron because of an important new design change in their engines. This change was made to reduce air pollution, but it can cause an increase in acid corrosion and deposits on vital engine parts because it recirculates crankcase fumes back into the engine. The New Boron is specially designed to give the extra protection needed for these newer cars.

The New Boron has what all Ohio drivers want! It delivers the important new benefits that modern engines need!

CLEANER VALVES! You probably have dirty valves in your car right now! Ordinary premium gasolines can't prevent them. To reduce valve deposits, Sohio put an exclusive Valve Cleaner in The New Boron. This important feature is one big reason for the popularity of The New Boron!

LESS ACID CORROSION! Another thing Ohio drivers like about The New Boron is the way it attacks the problem of acid corrosion! Hydrochloric acid in your engine can eat away at valve lifters, bearings and other vital parts. Because gasoline is the cause of this acid, Sohio went to the source of the problem and made The New Boron in a different way. It contains a unique Anti-Knock Compound that completely eliminates the formation of hydrochloric acid. In the past you relied on your motor oil to protect against hydrochloric acid. But it's a lot better to eliminate this acid than to rely on motor oil to protect against it.

TWO-WAY CARBURETOR PROTECTION! Motorists also appreciate the fact that The New Boron gives increased protection to their carburetors! You know how delicate a mechanism your carburetor is! You want it free of dirt. Sohio Super Filters The New Boron right in the pump hose to keep tiny dirt particles (and all gasolines contain them) from getting into your carburetor and fuel system. And the highly effective carburetor detergent in The New Boron removes deposits in the throat of the carburetor.

YOU NEED THE NEW BORON NOW! Every driver wants a clean engine. Every driver wants to avoid hydrochloric acid corrosion, valve and carburetor deposits. No wonder The New Boron has been such an outstanding success! If you aren't using The New Boron, you should be! Your engine needs it!

'Hot Line'

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★

Who's On Moscow End Now?

MOSCOW (AP) — Who's on Moscow's end of the hot line now? Whose finger is on the nuclear rocket button?

Until Nikita Khrushchev's unexpected ouster last week, the answer to both questions was simple — and the same. Now it's more complicated.

If President Johnson decides to have a talk on his direct line to the Kremlin, he presumably would get Alexei N. Kosygin. As premier, Kosygin heads the Soviet government.

But such significant things as the lineup of portraits of Soviet leaders displayed in Moscow show that Leonid I. Brezhnev is the top man now. He took over Khrushchev's job as Communist party first secretary.

In the last 40 years of Communist rule, the party secretary has always been top man; he has been premier only 18 of those years. The premier the rest of the time has been a technician.

This might not be much of a problem for Johnson since the hot line is a teletype circuit, not a telephone. Talking to two people on the phone at once might be confusing, but an agreed message could be put on the teletype from Moscow.

The finger-on-the-button question gets more involved due to the vagueness of the Soviet situation.

It does not designate a peacetime commander in chief for Soviet military forces as Johnson is commander in chief of the American military establishment.

Under the Soviet constitution the Presidium of the Supreme Soviet, which declares war and concludes peace, is presumably the top commander. But the Presidium has 33 members, which is a bit too many fingers for one button.

Lacking an officially proclaimed commander in chief, Premier Kosygin might seem to be the man. But his portrait is second, and what No. 1 man would want to turn over the decision on massive devastation to his deputy?

Many non-Communist observers of the Soviet scene have felt the system naturally gravitates toward one-man rule.

If the trend continues, Brezhnev will follow the example of Stalin and Khrushchev and add the premiership to the party leadership, or some other man will move in and ultimately take both jobs.

Lutheran Group At Ohio View To Hold Coverdish

Plans for the annual congregational coverdish dinner were discussed at a meeting of the Lutheran Church Women of the Ohio View Lutheran Church Tuesday night in the home of Mrs. Paul Brucker in Industry.

The meeting opened with hymn singing accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Brucker. Mrs. Alan Butler led devotions.

Mrs. Steve Hazy, church service chairman, announced that Mrs. Homer Paul will head the altar care committee for November, assisted by Mrs. Lee Albacker, Mrs. Hazy and Miss Shelley Paul.

Mrs. Paul, presdent, announced plans for the congregational dinner to be held tonight in the church hall.

Mrs. Robert Cowan, thankoffering chairman, reminded members that the next meeting, Nov. 17, will be the Thank-Offering service. The program will be presented by Mrs. Jack Peck and Mrs. William Stiblo. Mrs. C. L. Defenbaugh will lead devotions.

The meeting closed with benediction.

A program of games followed led by Mrs. Paul. Refreshments were served by the hostess assisted by Mrs. Butler.

Sofa Destroyed As Blaze Strikes North Side Home

Fire apparently started by a cigarette destroyed a sofa and damaged the floor and walls in the livingroom of a North Side home Thursday at 5:07 p.m., firemen reported.

The blaze brkoe out in a home at 1729 Smithfield St. occupied by Mrs. Lois Thomas and her children. Mrs. Thomas was absent at the time, returning a daughter after a stay at City Hospital.

Firemen were summoned by Mrs. Jack Talbott, 1810 Smithfield St. Mrs. Talbott's youngsters first noted the blaze. They told their mother there was "smoke coming out of the Thomas house." About the same time, Mrs. Thomas arrived home, noted the smoke and asked Mrs. Talbott to summon firemen.

Firemen said the blaze apparently started from a cigarette which had been left in an ashtray on the sofa. There also was damage to the floor and walls of the livingroom and smoke and heat damage in other parts of the home. Two trucks and an emergency car responded to the alarm, returning to the station at 5:35.

Frogs Are Becoming Unemployed In Africa

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) — One of South Africas best known "scientific exports," the platanna frog, is rapidly being done out of its job — the pregnancy test.

For years now the frog has been used by doctors all over the world to find out, within 24 hours of the test, whether a woman was pregnant or not. This stemmed from the discovery by a South African doctor that a frog would ovulate within 24 hours if it was injected with urine from a pregnant woman.

But now a new three-minute test evolved in the United States and claimed to be more simple and accurate than the frog test is being used by more and more doctors and the frog is losing its usefulness.

Litterbugs Have New Enemy—It's Aircraft

NEW YORK (AP) — Litterbugs have a new enemy—on wings.

Two states are now using aircraft to spot dispeners of litter, reports Keep America Beautiful, the national antilitter organization.

In New Jersey helicopters patrol off-shore waters. They warn water-borne litterbugs through loudspeakers and when things get out of hand, radio patrol launches move in for arrests.

Loudspeaker - equipped airplanes, provided by the Wisconsin Conservation Department, have been used for the past three years in a concerted antilitter program along the 284-mile river reaches of the Upper Mississippi River Wildlife and Fish Refuge. The planes warn litterbugs and coordinate activities of ground and waterborne patrols.

In Pennsylvania U.S. Senate Race

Scott, Blatt Campaign Against Party Division

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP) — Both of Pennsylvania's candidates for the U.S. Senate are campaigning against a background of division in their own state parties.

Republican Sen. Hugh Scott, seeking a second term, was a strong supporter of Gov. William W. Scranton for the presidential nomination won at San Francisco by Sen. Barry Goldwater.

Scott has endorsed Goldwater, but without enthusiasm, and has conducted his campaign independently from that of the national ticket.

His opponent, Miss Genevieve Blatt, captured the Democratic nomination as an independent after the state organization passed her by in favor of State Supreme Court Justice Michael A. Musmanno.

Miss Blatt won the primary by a margin of 491 votes of more than a million cast. Musmanno fought the verdict through the courts until early this month when the U.S. Supreme Court rejected his plea to count some 5,624 Philadelphia votes.

A political realist and graduate cum laude of the David Lawrence school of Pittsburgh politics, Miss Blatt did not wait for Musmanno to exhaust his legal remedies. She entered the campaign long before the courts had their final say.

She needled Scott for disassociating his campaign from that of Goldwater and the GOP vice-presidential candidate, Rep. William E. Miller.

Scott said Miss Blatt belittled bills which he had piloted through the Senate as "not important."

Once Miss Blatt dropped a broad hint that Scott should be considered a "carpetbagger" because he was born in Virginia.

The senator retorted by citing a record in Pennsylvania public life that dates back to 1926 and includes eight terms in Congress before his election to the Senate in 1958.

That's the way the campaign has been going. By Pennsylvania standards, it is still somewhat mild.

The candidates have been going everywhere, seeing the proper people, being photographed in the right places.

Scott shared a fund-raising program at Gettysburg with former President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

President Johnson, appearing at Harrisburg's state farm show arena —draped an arm affectionately about Miss Batt's shoulder and counseled the multitude to send her to the Senate.

Frogs Are Becoming Unemployed In Africa

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) — One of South Africas best known "scientific exports," the platanna frog, is rapidly being done out of its job — the pregnancy test.

For years now the frog has been used by doctors all over the world to find out, within 24 hours of the test, whether a woman was pregnant or not. This stemmed from the discovery by a South African doctor that a frog would ovulate within 24 hours if it was injected with urine from a pregnant woman.

But now a new three-minute test evolved in the United States and claimed to be more simple and accurate than the frog test is being used by more and more doctors and the frog is losing its usefulness.

Litterbugs Have New Enemy—It's Aircraft

NEW YORK (AP) — Litterbugs have a new enemy—on wings.

Two states are now using aircraft to spot dispeners of litter, reports Keep America Beautiful, the national antilitter organization.

In New Jersey helicopters patrol off-shore waters. They warn water-borne litterbugs through loudspeakers and when things get out of hand, radio patrol launches move in for arrests.

Loudspeaker - equipped airplanes, provided by the Wisconsin Conservation Department, have been used for the past three years in a concerted antilitter program along the 284-mile river reaches of the Upper Mississippi River Wildlife and Fish Refuge. The planes warn litterbugs and coordinate activities of ground and waterborne patrols.

In Pennsylvania U.S. Senate Race

Scott, Blatt Campaign Against Party Division

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP) — Both of Pennsylvania's candidates for the U.S. Senate are campaigning against a background of division in their own state parties.

Republican Sen. Hugh Scott, seeking a second term, was a strong supporter of Gov. William W. Scranton for the presidential nomination won at San Francisco by Sen. Barry Goldwater.

Scott has endorsed Goldwater, but without enthusiasm, and has conducted his campaign independently from that of the national ticket.

His opponent, Miss Genevieve Blatt, captured the Democratic nomination as an independent after the state organization passed her by in favor of State Supreme Court Justice Michael A. Musmanno.

Miss Blatt won the primary by a margin of 491 votes of more than a million cast. Musmanno fought the verdict through the courts until early this month when the U.S. Supreme Court rejected his plea to count some 5,624 Philadelphia votes.

A political realist and graduate cum laude of the David Lawrence school of Pittsburgh politics, Miss Blatt did not wait for Musmanno to exhaust his legal remedies. She entered the campaign long before the courts had their final say.

She needled Scott for disassociating his campaign from that of Goldwater and the GOP vice-presidential candidate, Rep. William E. Miller.

Scott said Miss Blatt belittled bills which he had piloted through the Senate as "not important."

Once Miss Blatt dropped a broad hint that Scott should be considered a "carpetbagger" because he was born in Virginia.

The senator retorted by citing a record in Pennsylvania public life that dates back to 1926 and includes eight terms in Congress before his election to the Senate in 1958.

That's the way the campaign has been going. By Pennsylvania standards, it is still somewhat mild.

The candidates have been going everywhere, seeing the proper people, being photographed in the right places.

Scott shared a fund-raising program at Gettysburg with former President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

President Johnson, appearing at Harrisburg's state farm show arena —draped an arm affectionately about Miss Batt's shoulder and counseled the multitude to send her to the Senate.

Council Plans Midland Area Skating Rink

R. E. Steebner, borough engineer, was authorized to advertise for bids for an ice skating rink, to be constructed in the Midland Heights section, at a meeting of the Midland Council Thursday evening. The bids are to be opened at the next meeting Nov. 12.

Steebner also was requested to make an evaluation of the incinerator plant for a cost estimate on a possible modernization project in the future.

Steebner and Matt Brozic, street superintendent, were instructed to check needed repairs at the plant to prepare it for winter.

Council accepted the resignation of Benny Pultonovich as secretary of the Police Civil Service Commission. Pultonovich said he was moving from Midland in the near future.

On motion of Councilman Ray Presutti, a letter of thanks for his fine services was sent to Pultanovich.

After a tie vote of 3-3, Council tabled a motion presented by Councilman Joe D'Alesio that it accept an offer of the Atlantic Refining Co. to sell a 12-foot plot of land at the 12th St. entrance to the Crucible Steel Co. The land is needed for widening the intersection to four lanes to attempt to alleviate traffic congestion.

The tie vote came after a lengthy discussion on whether the move should be made during the absence of the Mayor Eli Corak and William Vinovich, Council president.

Also tabled for further study was a motion by Councilman Lester Trainer, traffic chairman, that Railroad Ln., between 10th and 12th Sts., be made a one-way street for eastbound traffic.

Councilman Joe Hibbard presented a commendation to the Midland fire companies for their "hard work and willing attitude" during the brush fires in Industry last week, and during the water shortage emergency in Midland Sunday.

District Man Injured In Shadyside Wreck

A 64-year-old area man was in "fairly good" condition today at City Hospital with injuries suffered in a two-car collision on Shadyside Ave. Thursday.

Charles Trainer of Irish Ridge Rd. received a possible skull injury and bruises of the left knee when his car and another operated by Kelsey Bailey, 46, of Shadyside Ave. collided about a half mile from the East Liverpool-Wellsville super-road.

20 Acquitted Of Attempt To Oust Khanh

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — A military court acquitted today 20 persons accused of last month's attempt to overthrow Premier Nguyen Khanh.

The surprise decision freeing 13 military officers and seven civilians appeared linked with Khanh's drive to line up support before a new civilian government takes office next week.

The military will play a key role in the government and Khanh wants to run the military.

Earlier this week he released five generals he had been holding under arrest and promoted four generals and a colonel who supported him against the coup attempt Sept. 13.

The end of the nine-day-old trial followed a three-hour conference in the judge's chambers in which prosecution and defense attorneys and court officials participated. The chief judge, Maj. Gen. Nguyen Ngoc Le, then announced there was not enough evidence to support the charges of treason against the defendants.

The military defendants claimed they did not want to overthrow Khanh but were making a show of force to strengthen the military's rule. Two weeks before, Khanh, under mob pressure, had resigned as president, scrapped the military constitution and promised to restore the nation to civilian rule.

Five members of the National Assembly under the Ngo Dinh Diem regime also were among the civilian defendants.

Nationwide Alert Fails To Uncover Missing Boys

CINCINNATI (AP) — Police chief James Finan said today a nationwide alert has not turned up anything on two missing Fairfax youngsters.

It's been nine days since Johnny Hundley and Jimmy McQueary, both 9, vanished from their homes in the Cincinnati suburb.

"They just simply disappeared," said Finan. "We've exhausted all leads and we're just as baffled as anyone on where they might be."

Finan said he would "just have to wait and see" if any results come from the 500 bulletins, giving pictures and descriptions of the boys, he sent to police departments throughout the country.

"I think we've done a good job of searching the community and other areas," Finan added. "I feel that they couldn't be anyplace in the village now."

Finan said the best tip he has so far was from a railroad worker who was "positive" he spotted one of the boys hanging around freight cars last weekend. The cars went from here to the St. Louis area, but Finan said a search there was fruitless.

"In view of the fact that the railroad man was so sure he saw one of them I feel they're still alive," Finan said. The railroad employe also said he saw another boy at the same time but didn't get a good look at him.

Finan said he didn't know what his next step would be in searching for the boys. "It's a good question and I'm open to suggestions," he said.

Fairfax was the home of 4-year-old Debbie Dappen, for whom hundreds of volunteers searched 2½ days this summer before her body was found under a porch. A neighbor boy admitted killing her and is now in custody.

Midland Post Has Induction

Installation of a slate of officers headed by Leon Anderson, commander, highlighted a meeting of Midland American Legion Post 533 Thursday night in the Masonic Hall in Midland.

Others were Charles Gomez, first vice commander; Norman Pyne, second vice commander; Willie J. Jones, adjutant; Samuel DeBerry, finance officer; M. C. Conwill, chaplain; Nora Conwill, historian; Starling Johnson, service officer, and Arber Parham, sergeant-at-arms.

Beaver Group Sets Study Of College Plan

BEAVER — A convention of Beaver County school directors Thursday night approved resolutions asking a delay on plans to establish an extension center by Pennsylvania State University and made plans for two studies on a community college for the county.

The group authorized creation of a Higher Education Committee which would undertake to have studies made by the Pennsylvania Economy League and an independent education team concerning the practicality and economic feasibility of a community college or a community college plus a Pennsylvania State University campus in the county.

The latter plan would provide for non-duplicating complementary programs, a spokesman said.

County commissioners have already offered a plan to the university for utilizing the former county annex in Center Township.

The action of the school directors last night at Beaver Area High School asked the commissioners to delay for 90 days a move on the university program until the two studies are completed, and reports filed at the next meeting of the directors.

South Side GOP Club To Address Material

The South Side Republican Club will meet Monday night at 8 at the South Side Elementary School near Hookstown. Mrs. Daniel Wilson, president, said the group will address envelopes for material to be sent to voters. A social hour will follow.

Plans are being made to charter a bus to a Goldwater rally at Pittsburgh's Civic Arena Friday night. Anyone desiring to go on the bus may notify Mrs. Wilson at ES. 8-2933 or committee member before Tuesday. At least 40 are needed.

Trucker Hits Wall To Stop Runaway Rig

A 41-year-old Butler County man escaped injury Thursday night when he deliberately steered his tractor-trailer rig into a concrete retaining wall on the E. 5th St. Hill after the brakes failed as he descended the steep grade, police said.

Chester C. Vaughn of Hamilton told officers his rig's brakes failed as he topped the brow of the grade and headed toward the downtown area. He said he turned it into the wall rather than continue into the heart of the business district.

Vaughn estimated the rig was moving 5 to 10 miles an hour when it scraped against the concrete block wall at 169 Pennsylvania Ave.—property owned by the George Bright Real Estate Co. of E. 6th St.

There was damage to the right front of the rig, owned by Ed Forrester, also of Hamilton, police said.

The city has regulations that require heavy trucks to use the River Rd. as an alternate Route 30, keeping the big vehicles clear of the grades at either end of the "Hill Rd." But Vaughn said he did not notice the "truck route" signs as he headed out of East End.

The mishap was timed at 8:16 last night on Pennsylvania Ave. 150 feet west of Blakeley St. Patrolman Karl Samples investigated.

In the only other mishap reported last night, a hit - skip auto crashed into a barricade and lights that an Ohio Valley Gas Co. crew had erected around an excavation on Lisbon St. 75 feet south of Shady Ln., officers said.

A witness told police an outbound car, traveling at a high rate of speed, passed another auto headed in the same direction and hit the barricade lights on the west side of Lisbon St., then continued without stopping.

A short time later, the witness said, the hit-skip car returned past the same spot, headed toward West End. Officers were given a description of the auto and the license number. The crash was timed at 11:12.

HEARING AIDS AND X-RAY MACHINES
Q. I recently obtained a position in a doctor's office. I use a hearing aid and at various times during the day the aid seems to "go dead." This never happens at home. Can you explain?
A. The trouble may be due to small amounts of radiation given off by an x-ray or diathermy machine used in the office. Transistors are especially sensitive to this type of radiation. Consult the hearing aid manufacturer. The difficulty might be overcome by shielding the transistors, or perhaps a different type of hearing aid should be used.
Note to Mrs. N.A.: Circumcision of the male is performed for religious and/or hygienic reasons. It is not likely that the solution to your particular problem can be found in surgery.
EYELID MOTION AND CLICKING SOUNDS
Q. Occasionally, when I close my left eye, I notice a clicking sound. Does this suggest eye trouble and is treatment necessary?
A. When one of the eyelids does not fit snugly against the eyeball, a bubble of air may form between the upper lid and the globe. As the eyelid closes, the bubble is expelled with a "clicking sound." No treatment is indicated.

Council Plans Midland Area Skating Rink

R. E. Steebner, borough engineer, was authorized to advertise for bids for an ice skating rink, to be constructed in the Midland Heights section, at a meeting of the Midland Council Thursday evening. The bids are to be opened at the next meeting Nov. 12.

Steebner also was requested to make an evaluation of the incinerator plant for a cost estimate on a possible modernization project in the future.

Steebner and Matt Brozic, street superintendent, were instructed to check needed repairs at the plant to prepare it for winter.

Council accepted the resignation of Benny Pultonovich as secretary of the Police Civil Service Commission. Pultonovich said he was moving from Midland in the near future.

On motion of Councilman Ray Presutti, a letter of thanks for his fine services was sent to Pultanovich.

After a tie vote of 3-3, Council tabled a motion presented by Councilman Joe D'Alesio that it accept an offer of the Atlantic Refining Co. to sell a 12-foot plot of land at the 12th St. entrance to the Crucible Steel Co. The land is needed for widening the intersection to four lanes to attempt to alleviate traffic congestion.

The tie vote came after a lengthy discussion on whether the move should be made during the absence of the Mayor Eli Corak and William Vinovich, Council president.

Also tabled for further study was a motion by Councilman Lester Trainer, traffic chairman, that Railroad Ln., between 10th and 12th Sts., be made a one-way street for eastbound traffic.

Councilman Joe Hibbard presented a commendation to the Midland fire companies for their "hard work and willing attitude" during the brush fires in Industry last week, and during the water shortage emergency in Midland Sunday.

20 Acquitted Of Attempt To Oust Khanh

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — A military court acquitted today 20 persons accused of last month's attempt to overthrow Premier Nguyen Khanh.

The surprise decision freeing 13 military officers and seven civilians appeared linked with Khanh's drive to line up support before a new civilian government takes office next week.

The military will play a key role in the government and Khanh wants to run the military.

Earlier this week he released five generals he had been holding under arrest and promoted four generals and a colonel who supported him against the coup attempt Sept. 13.

The end of the nine-day-old trial followed a three-hour conference in the judge's chambers in which prosecution and defense attorneys and court officials participated. The chief judge, Maj. Gen. Nguyen Ngoc Le, then announced there was not enough evidence to support the charges of treason against the defendants.

The military defendants claimed they did not want to overthrow Khanh but were making a show of force to strengthen the military's rule. Two weeks before, Khanh, under mob pressure, had resigned as president, scrapped the military constitution and promised to restore the nation to civilian rule.

Five members of the National Assembly under the Ngo Dinh Diem regime also were among the civilian defendants.

Nationwide Alert Fails To Uncover Missing Boys

CINCINNATI (AP) — Police chief James Finan said today a nationwide alert has not turned up anything on two missing Fairfax youngsters.

It's been nine days since Johnny Hundley and Jimmy McQueary, both 9, vanished from their homes in the Cincinnati suburb.

"They just simply disappeared," said Finan. "We've exhausted all leads and we're just as baffled as anyone on where they might be."

Finan said he would "just have to wait and see" if any results come from the 500 bulletins, giving pictures and descriptions of the boys, he sent to police departments throughout the country.

"I think we've done a good job of searching the community and other areas," Finan added. "I feel that they couldn't be anyplace in the village now."

Finan said the best tip he has so far was from a railroad worker who was "positive" he spotted one of the boys hanging around freight cars last weekend. The cars went from here to the St. Louis area, but Finan said a search there was fruitless.

"In view of the fact that the railroad man was so sure he saw one of them I feel they're still alive," Finan said. The railroad employe also said he saw another boy at the same time but didn't get a good look at him.

Finan said he didn't know what his next step would be in searching for the boys. "It's a good question and I'm open to suggestions," he said.

Fairfax was the home of 4-year-old Debbie Dappen, for whom hundreds of volunteers searched 2½ days this summer before her body was found under a porch. A neighbor boy admitted killing her and is now in custody.

Beaver Group Sets Study Of College Plan

BEAVER — A convention of Beaver County school directors Thursday night approved resolutions asking a delay on plans to establish an extension center by Pennsylvania State University and made plans for two studies on a community college for the county.

The group authorized creation of a Higher Education Committee which would undertake to have studies made by the Pennsylvania Economy League and an independent education team concerning the practicality and economic feasibility of a community college or a community college plus a Pennsylvania State University campus in the county.

The latter plan would provide for non-duplicating complementary programs, a spokesman said.

County commissioners have already offered a plan to the university for utilizing the former county annex in Center Township.

The action of the school directors last night at Beaver Area High School asked the commissioners to delay for 90 days a move on the university program until the two studies are completed, and reports filed at the next meeting of the directors.

Trucker Hits Wall To Stop Runaway Rig

A 41-year-old Butler County man escaped injury Thursday night when he deliberately steered his tractor-trailer rig into a concrete retaining wall on the E. 5th St. Hill after the brakes failed as he descended the steep grade, police said.

Chester C. Vaughn of Hamilton told officers his rig's brakes failed as he topped the brow of the grade and headed toward the downtown area. He said he turned it into the wall rather than continue into the heart of the business district.

Vaughn estimated the rig was moving 5 to 10 miles an hour when it scraped against the concrete block wall at 169 Pennsylvania Ave.—property owned by the George Bright Real Estate Co. of E. 6th St.

There was damage to the right front of the rig, owned by Ed Forrester, also of Hamilton, police said.

The city has regulations that require heavy trucks to use the River Rd. as an alternate Route 30, keeping the big vehicles clear of the grades at either end of the "Hill Rd." But Vaughn said he did not notice the "truck route" signs as he headed out of East End.

The mishap was timed at 8:16 last night on Pennsylvania Ave. 150 feet west of Blakeley St. Patrolman Karl Samples investigated.

In the only other mishap reported last night, a hit - skip auto crashed into a barricade and lights that an Ohio Valley Gas Co. crew had erected around an excavation on Lisbon St. 75 feet south of Shady Ln., officers said.

A witness told police an outbound car, traveling at a high rate of speed, passed another auto headed in the same direction and hit the barricade lights on the west side of Lisbon St., then continued without stopping.

A short time later, the witness said, the hit-skip car returned past the same spot, headed toward West End. Officers were given a description of the auto and the license number. The crash was timed at 11:12.

Man Charged In Nurse Slaying

Wave, 22, Faces Quiz In Trunk Murder Case

CINCINNATI (AP) — A girl friend of a man charged with the murder of a Kentucky nurse was to be questioned today in connection with the bizarre case, police said.

Police detective chief Henry Sandman said Miss Alice Ewing, 22, Fort Thomas, Ky., was to be brought here today from Philadelphia, where she was on active reserve duty as a Navy Wave.

Robert R. Abbott, 21, Dayton, Ky., said to be engaged to Miss Ewing, has been charged with first degree murder by Cincinnati police in the slaying of Miss Wanda Cook, 24, Bellevue, Ky.

Abbott was arrested Thursday in his home and is being held in jail at Newport, Ky., across the Ohio River from Cincinnati. He has denied any part in the slaying, which police believe occurred in the Sheraton-Gibson hotel in downtown Cincinnati.

Miss Cook, who worked for the University of Kentucky Medical Center at Lexington, was believed killed last Friday night. She had been shot twice in the head. Her body was stuffed into a trunk and shipped by train from Cincinnati to Cleveland last weekend.

The body was discovered Wednesday in Cleveland Union Terminal.

Abbott, who police said was on probation for car theft, has refused to be extradited to Ohio. Cincinnati authorities said they are starting proceedings in an attempt to bring him here.

Police said they have traced the trunk from an army surplus store in Covington, Ky., where it was purchased, to its final destination in Cleveland.

A clerk in the Covington store said the man and woman who bought the trunk last Friday fit the descriptions of Abbott and Miss Ewing. Other witnesses, police say, identified Miss Ewing as the woman who sent the trunk by cab from the hotel to Cincinnati Union Terminal.

Police said they have uncovered no motive for the slaying and that the relationship between Abbott and Miss Ewing and Miss Cook has not been firmly established.

The IBOP also stressed constitutional provisions on the eligibility of candidates and data on election procedures.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: Our son is marrying a very lovely girl a few days before Christmas. Marcia is sweet and attractive, but her flair for the dramatic sometimes goes beyond what I think is good sense.

Unfortunately Marcia's mother passed away last year. They were very close. Although her father is paying for the wedding, she has asked me to help her plan it.

Last night when we were discussing the arrangements Marcia said it would make her very happy if the entire bridal party went out to the cemetery after the ceremony. She said "I want to feel that mother is with me on my wedding day."

I'm afraid to tell Marcia what I really think. I've seen her at her mother's grave. She goes to pieces and it's awfully hard on everybody.

I don't want to impose my views on Marcia but what she has in mind would spoil the day for all of us. May I hear from you, please?—IN ABEYANCE.

Dear A.: If Marcia wants to visit her mother's grave on her wedding day she should go before the ceremony—perhaps with her fiance and her father.

To ask the bridal party to trek out to the cemetery would be tasteless in the extreme. I hope you will tell her so and help keep the day a joyous one.

Hire A Tutor

Dear Ann: Our 11-year-old son has been doing poorly in school for the past two years. When the boy was not promoted last spring I had a conference with his homeroom teacher. She told me he should be tutored in reading and offered to put us in touch with a tutor.

My husband says it's a racket and that the teacher probably gets cut in for bringing the "sucker" to the tutor.

Our son is bored with school and it's a struggle to get him to do his homework. My husband says, "Don't nag him."

If I didn't nag him, Ann, he wouldn't do one thing but play ball and look at TV. I need your help. —LOSING BATTLE.

Dear Battle: Experts in the field of education tell us that an appalling number of highly intelligent children do substandard work because they are unable to read properly. A student with inadequate reading skills cannot grasp the fundamentals of any subject.

I urge you to take the teacher's advice and hire a tutor. Thousands of youngsters who were academic cripples have become fine students after they learned to read.

Double Surprise

Dear Ann: Please don't throw this letter in the basket because it starts out like others you have printed. It REALLY is different.

First, God bless you for telling people to stay home unless they are invited to visit. I sent those columns to several friends who used to drop in and it helped. Now I need MORE help.

What can I do about neighbors and friends who still appear at the door and say, "I thought I'd surprise you."

I'm a nervous person and when this happens I become nauseated and upset. Help me, please.—MIGRAINE MARY.

-:-

Dear Migraine: The best way to deal with people who surprise you is to surprise them.

Have your speech prepared: "I wish you had called. I don't feel well today and I'd be miserable company. So sorry I can't ask you in."

Anyone who drops in again — after that speech — deserves to hear it one more time.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Coeds, Cut The Calorie Capers!

This is the time of year when co-eds pile on pounds at a rather reckless rate, particularly freshmen and sophomores. All social activities center around food. The get-acquainted teas, the Coke dates, the ice cream floats and sodas after class and the get-togethers in the rooms late at night.

Ida Jean Kain

Speaking of sodas and such . . .there seems to be a big deal on at ice cream parlors. Catering to "growing" appetites, they have tripled the scoops of ice cream and assorted trimming. Some of them must contain close to a thousand calories!

—:—

SO, GIRLS, when your favorite plaid skirt begins to feel more than snug, don't blame the cleaners. Weigh in. After reading the bad news on the scales, you'll spring across campus to see the dietitian and complain that the meals are too high in starch. She's heard all this before. . .but will calmly ask what you eat for breakfast. You hasten to tell her that you don't eat breakfast, haven't the time.

You point out firmly that you really eat very little — but explain that the food is so fattening. Well, there are 100 calories in a potato and 400 in a chocolate ice cream soda. After the dietitian helps you add up the score in extra-curricular calories, it will be plain to see where the pounds are coming from.

About the middle of the term co-eds write in asking for hip slimming exercises. Studying is so broadening. One girl wrote that she just had to have something to eat to get through those last 10 pages. Fair enough; but let it be limited to 100 calories. . .a big red apple, a banana, or any fresh fruit.

WHILE studying, take a break with an exercise session to stir up the circulation and send fresh blood to the brain. Then those last 10 pages will be a breeze. Turn on the radio softly, and do the high bicycle for 50 counts. Up on shoulders, weight resting on shoulders and supported by elbows, pedal away merrily. In that ups-a-daisy position, circulation is stimulated, the big hip muscles are brought into action. Toned muscles not only hug the silhouette but discourage fat padding. Six minutes of exercise and back to the book. . .

An ounce of prevention now can save pounds!

Send stamped, self-addressed, long envelope for Revised Calorie Chart. Address request to Ida Jean Kain, Care of The Review. Post card requests cannot be answered.

Coloring Books May Stifle Interest

Little children two, three or four years old may get considerable fun from coloring pictures drawn in large rough outline. They get some experience choosing colors they like most, and at keeping the colors within the lines. Seeing the young child's self-amusement at coloring such pictures, when he is two or three, his parents provide him with pads or books for more coloring. Unfortunately, he may engage in this activity for several more years.

Dr. Garry Myers

But the longer he keeps at this simple activity, the less he grows interested in drawing pictures of his own or coloring or painting shapes without first drawing the boundaries—the less creative he becomes. Undoubtedly color books as used by millions of children over three or four are stiflers of creativity.

—:—

THE Association for Childhood Education International, an organization concerned with children two to twelve, has issued a fine bulletin, "The Color Book Craze." It was written by Blanche Jefferson, Program Chairman in Art Education, University of Pittsburgh. I wish every parent of children under thirteen, who read this column, might study this bulletin. It may be had for ten cents from the organization at 3615 Wisconsin Avenue, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20016.

Here are a few of the high points in this bulletin:

Children and adults have come to accept the activity of coloring pictures drawn by someone else. Color books range from drawings meant to be colored by the child two to five and "stationery kits with accompanying sheets of predrawn pictures to be traced and colored on the letters children write." The purpose of all is the same — merely to color within the limits of the outlines of printed drawings.

COLOR sheets and books have long been used in schools and church schools, as a good learning device. Also there are pictures to be colored in most children's magazines. Millions of color books are given away for sales promotion. There are also color books for adults — for teachers and business executives.

Using a color sheet or books, the child has no choice of materials or control of the shapes he is to work with. He can select the colors he likes, though his choices may be limited here. Recent color pictures in some children's magazines or color books have numbered spaces indicating the color to be used. "He does not need to think—just obey."

Having a child copy or color inside a predrawn form, or draw around it, is akin to the patterned thinking of totalitarianism. There is little or no educational value to be gained from color books. Instead, their use inhibits and suppresses inventiveness and stifles imagination.

"AS everybody knows, young children are full of imagination, ideas and drive. Their creative art is exciting and has recognizabel art quality . . . Color books are not art." No wonder children around the fourth grade lose interest and ability to create, as discovered in the researches of Dr. E. Paul Torrance, and as has long been obvious to many teachers.

"There is no contribution by color books to the skills needed in art that could not be bettered by direct participation in creative art."

My bulletins, "Beginning of Imagination" and "Stimulate Your Child's Imagination" may be secured by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of The Review.

Miller Resumes Campaign With New Jersey Bid

CAMDEN, N.J. (AP) — Rep. William E. Miller resumes campaigning with a day-long stump across New Jersey, today, to be capped by an address to a Hungarian Freedom Fighters rally.

The Republican vice presidential nominee starts with a breakfast rally in this city then travels by motorcade to Trenton, Princeton, Morristown and Newark.

Miller conferred on campaign strategy Thursday with Sen. Barry Goldwater, the GOP presidential nominee, in New York City before they attended memorial services for former President Herbert Hoover.

Miller is the last of the four major candidates to campaign in New Jersey for the state's 17 electoral votes. Goldwater, President Johnson and Sen. Herbert H. Humphrey all have made visits in recent weeks to the state, which went Democratic by a scant 22,000 votes in 1960.

After his speech in Jersey City, Miller will fly to Buffalo, N.Y., where he will begin a tour Saturday across Upstate New York and down the Hudson River Valley.

Back Of Year Quits Purdue . . .

Martins Ferry's invasion of Patterson Field tonight brings to mind the Riders' fine quarterback last year, Bob DiStefano.

He was named Ohio's back of the year and wound up at Purdue University. However, he remained there for only a few days before returning home.

He now attends the Martins Ferry branch of Ohio University and is scheduled to attend classes on the campus at OU for the second semester. DiStefano could be a fine quarterback for the Bobcats in the future.

New Court In Klondyke . . .

A NEW basketball court and ice-skating rink has been completed at the Klondyke school playground.

The city provided the concrete court, while officials of Patterson Industry Inc., donated the backboards and supports and the Little Potters League purchased the baskets and nets.

The court will be frozen in the winter months for ice skating.

Ref Admits Wrong Call . . .

THE REFEREE is always right, even when he admits he's wrong, Ohio High School Athletic officials say.

So Springfield South's 8-6 victory over previously unbeaten Dayton Chaminade will stand up and the safety that wasn't really a safety goes into the record books as just two more points.

"It was my error," admitted Referee Robert C. Daganhardt. He was speaking of his call in last Friday's game which gave still undefeated Springfield South two points and broke a 6-6 tie with 18 seconds left in the game.

Daganhardt, a Big Ten official who has been working football games for 19 years, said, "I just missed it."

"It was one of those mental blocks. There is no way possible it could have been a safety."

Other athletic authorities agreed, but said the decision will stand because, under Ohio high school rules, there is no appeal from an official's ruling.

Here's what happened: With the clock ticking out the final seconds, South's Harold Daniels tried a field goal from the 26, but it fell short into the end zone.

Chaminade's Mike Horn tried to down it for a touchdown, but was hit by a South player and both he and the ball squirted out of the end zone.

Safety, ruled the 39-year-old Daganhardt. But later he explained:

"I was upfield behind the kicker to judge the field goal, I didn't see what happened, but it was my job to make the call as referee.

"Another official correctly told me what happened and I wrongly called it a safety."

Commissioner Paul J. Landis of the OHSAA said he did not expect his group to take any action.

This 'N That In Sports . . .

A TOUGH decision faces the crystal ball this week with the East Liverpool-Martins Ferry game upon us.

We are making a choice we don't want to and again hope we are wrong. It looks like Martins Ferry over the Potters. And if a dry field prevails, there should be a lot of scoring from the offensive-minded teams. The Purple Riders by a touchdown.

At Salem tonight it looks like a close one, with the Quakers our choice over Wellsville.

Midland is up against it tonight, meeting a fine Hopewell team. We'll take visiting Hopewell in this one, but the Leopards could surprise.

Carrollton is our pick over Beaver Local, while Louisville should continue to roll with Lisbon the victim tonight.

In other Tri-County action, Leetonia rates the nod over Poland, East Palestine to continue its winning ways over Minerva and Sebring to nip Columbiana.

Saturday, Bellaire St. John's may have a little too much talent for Oak Glen. Stanton Local should chalk up a victory at Southern Local, United to top Crestview and Avonworth over South Side.

SPEAKING OF football players, two Potter stars of a year ago, Bill Hall, an end, and Dave Oliver are playing regular for the Miami of Ohio freshmen.

Hall is playing both offense and defense and Oliver does all the kicking for the Miami yearlings.

Both are on a look-see basis (they didn't receive athletic grants) and its seems from all reports that they have impressed the Miami coaching staff.

★ ★ ★

DON JACKSON'S Rossford team had a narrow escape last Friday night before winning its sixth straight game.

Springfield Lucas, a team also undefeated, took a 20-16 lead with only 56 seconds remaining.

Jackson's club stormed back and scored the winning touchdown with only a few seconds left.

His team was rated 15th in the state last week.

C. P. HENDERSON of Irondale, who has followed Ohio State University football closely for years, feels the 1964 Buckeyes are one of the strongest teams in history. WE WERE saddened by the deaths of two men who will be remembered for their athletic endeavors in East Liverpool.

Glenn Mackall was one of the better high school football halfbacks of his day when he wore the Blue and White in the late 1920's. His son, Bob, followed in his football steps and was an All-Ohio quarterback at East Liverpool in 1959, then went on to play at Northwestern University.

Mr. Seibert had spent over 10 years as a manager and coach in the East Liverpool Little League, devoting summer months to the youngsters.

Both families have our deepest sympathy.

The East Liverpool Potters again find themselves in an even match as an improved Martins Ferry team pays a visit to Patterson Field tonight. Kickoff is at 7:45 p. m.

Coach Bob McNea again has to do a patch up job with the Potter lineup. In each game so far this season an injury has popped up to a key performer.

THIS WEEK it is Nick Marchbanks, a hard running junior halfback, who is sidelined with a knee injury. In his place will be Pat Chema who has seen quite a bit of action in the past three games, replacing Marchbanks.

The remainder of the Potter backfield will have hard working Denny Burke at fullback, Mike Goodballet at the other halfback post and Bob Maltarich at quarterback.

RETURNING to the lineup tonight after an absence of two games will be tackle Mike Snowden, the 190-pound senior who goes both ways.

McNea sends his Potters after their fifth victory while the Blue and White show one tie and a loss for the season.

Martins Ferry will bring a 2-3 record here but has won its last two games after dropping the first three.

—:—

IN ITS last two games, the Purple Riders have scored 72 points as their offense is starting to click.

The three games which the Riders dropped were to strong clubs including Bellaire, Marietta and Wheeling.

Martins Ferry doesn't have any standout but shows a balanced backfield while the Riders will have an edge in weight on the forward wall.

Celtics Rise To Top Spot In 1st Week

Let baseball have its tight pennant races. The Boston Celtics, who believe in doing things the easy way, are all alone atop the National Basketball Association's Eastern Division today after only one week of play.

Of course, it's not a very big lead — yet. But the Celtics, shooting for their seventh straight NBA championship, made it two victories in a row Thursday night with a 104-102 triumph over Detroit.

In the second game of the doubleheader at Philadelphia, the Baltimore Bullets turned back the 76ers, 138-135, in overtime.

Sam Jones' short jump shot with 36 seconds left carried the Celtics to victory after the world champs had blown a 15-point lead in the last period. Reggie Hardin's three-pointer with 51 second left tied the score and set up Jones' winning shot.

As usual, the Boston attack was well-balanced. Jones scored 23 points, John Havlicek added 17 and Bill Russell, Tom Sanders and K.C. Jones had 14 apiece. Detroit's Ray Scott took game honors with 27.

Philadelphia held Baltimore's big Walt Bellamy to a meger four points, while Don Ohl and Gus Johnson chipped in with 37 each and Bailey Howell added 24.

Hal Greer, Philadelphia's top marksman with 29 points, had sent the game into overtime with a goal that tied the score in regulation time at 126-all.

Dave Gambee added 28 points for the losers.

Coach Jess Neely has coached four of the six championship teams produced by Rice University.

85-Yard Run Features Westgate Win

Mike Jackson, an alert defensive back, raced 85 yards with a pass interception and Sam Scott galloped 22 yards for another touchdown to lead Westgate in a 14-0 victory over rival East Junior High Thursday afternoon at Patterson Field.

Coach Joe Chontos's team took a 6-0 lead with a minute remaining in the first half when Scott swept the right side for a 22-yard TD romp. The conversion try was stopped.

With only 17 seconds left in the third quarter, Jackson, a spunky halfback, grabbed an East pass at his own 15 and raced down the sideline for 85 yards and the touchdown. Scott then ran the conversion for the 14-0 verdict.

Jackson's interception was a timely one for Westgate had just punted out from deep in their own territory and East was threatening on the Wildcat 25-yard line.

The victory gives Westgate a 6-3 edge in the football series between the two schools.

East, relying mostly on its passing game, failed to make a serious scoring threat during the contest.

Braves Stalled Over Move South

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writre

NEW YORK (AP) — The Milwaukee Braves, determined to move their franchise, will seek to set aside a court order that blocked their initial efforts to play in Atlanta next year.

The Braves' board of directors was all set to ask for National League approval Thursday but was unable to do so because of the temporary restraining order awarded to the Milwaukee County Commission by a Wisconsin Circuit Court.

As a consequence, the league decided at a special meeting to delay any veto of approval until the club is free legally to leave Wisconsin.

The county bases its case on a breach of contract since the Braves' pact provides that the club perform at County Stadium in Milwaukee in 1965.

Willam Bartholomay, chairman of the Braves' board of directors, acknowledged the legal maneuver was a temporary setback but expressed confidence the club will be able to show cause before Circuit Court Judge Ronald Drescher next Tuesday why it should be permitted to leave Milwaukee.

"We feel confident we will be able to present a list of determining factors which make it imperative for us to move the club," he said.

"It is our firm belief that we have exhausted every possible means to keep the franchise in Milwaukee."

At Tuesday's hearing in Milwaukee, it will be decided whether an injunction shall be granted against the proposed move.

Should an injunction be granted, it would be a severe blow to Atlanta's hopes of having a major league club in 1965. A 52,000-seat stadium, costing $18 million, is halfway completed and was expected to be ready for the Braves next April.

This possibility did not appear to weigh heavily either on the Braves or National League President Warren Giles, who said the league had empowered him to call another special meeting as soon as the Braves were free to move.

"I anticipate another league meeting as soon as the restraining order is lifted — which should be soon," he said.

Another reason the league delayed its vote which had every aspect of being in favor of the move, was the threat made by Eugene Grobschmidt, chairman of the Milwaukee County Board, to sue the league and the other nine club owners, as well, if approval was given.

"We're ready to carry this to the Supreme Court, if necessary," Rice said.

Measly $889 Won After $171,084 Hit

YONKERS, N.Y. (AP) — Ernest Dahlman Jr., the 21-year-old delicatessen clerk of Patchogue, N.Y. who hit a $171,084.60 Twin Double at Yonkers Raceway Wednesday night in partnership with his father, hit the TD again Thursday.

This time the payoff was a measly, in comparison, $899.60. Dahlman was reported to have had six winning tickets on the 3-6-2-3 combination.

Braves Stalled Over Move South

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writre

NEW YORK (AP) — The Milwaukee Braves, determined to move their franchise, will seek to set aside a court order that blocked their initial efforts to play in Atlanta next year.

The Braves' board of directors was all set to ask for National League approval Thursday but was unable to do so because of the temporary restraining order awarded to the Milwaukee County Commission by a Wisconsin Circuit Court.

As a consequence, the league decided at a special meeting to delay any veto of approval until the club is free legally to leave Wisconsin.

The county bases its case on a breach of contract since the Braves' pact provides that the club perform at County Stadium in Milwaukee in 1965.

Willam Bartholomay, chairman of the Braves' board of directors, acknowledged the legal maneuver was a temporary setback but expressed confidence the club will be able to show cause before Circuit Court Judge Ronald Drescher next Tuesday why it should be permitted to leave Milwaukee.

"We feel confident we will be able to present a list of determining factors which make it imperative for us to move the club," he said.

"It is our firm belief that we have exhausted every possible means to keep the franchise in Milwaukee."

At Tuesday's hearing in Milwaukee, it will be decided whether an injunction shall be granted against the proposed move.

Should an injunction be granted, it would be a severe blow to Atlanta's hopes of having a major league club in 1965. A 52,000-seat stadium, costing $18 million, is halfway completed and was expected to be ready for the Braves next April.

This possibility did not appear to weigh heavily either on the Braves or National League President Warren Giles, who said the league had empowered him to call another special meeting as soon as the Braves were free to move.

"I anticipate another league meeting as soon as the restraining order is lifted — which should be soon," he said.

Another reason the league delayed its vote which had every aspect of being in favor of the move, was the threat made by Eugene Grobschmidt, chairman of the Milwaukee County Board, to sue the league and the other nine club owners, as well, if approval was given.

"We're ready to carry this to the Supreme Court, if necessary," Rice said.

Measly $889 Won After $171,084 Hit

YONKERS, N.Y. (AP) — Ernest Dahlman Jr., the 21-year-old delicatessen clerk of Patchogue, N.Y. who hit a $171,084.60 Twin Double at Yonkers Raceway Wednesday night in partnership with his father, hit the TD again Thursday.

This time the payoff was a measly, in comparison, $899.60. Dahlman was reported to have had six winning tickets on the 3-6-2-3 combination.

The 'Jeep' Gladiator with 4-wheel drive has twice the traction of ordinary pick-up trucks.

Can you imagine a truck with 2-wheel drive handling mud this deep?

The 'Jeep' Gladiator with 4-wheel drive can get through stormy weather and rough terrain that would stop any conventional 2-wheel drive pick-up. That's because it has twice the traction. 'Jeep' Gladiators plow through snow, slush through mud, sail through downpours and give better control on ice.

And because it is built to take it, a 'Jeep' Gladiator is worth a mint when you get ready to sell it. It holds its value because it stays versatile.

Go to your 'Jeep' dealer and test drive a 'Jeep' Gladiator. Notice its passenger car smoothness. Then find a hill. A steep one. Try it halfway in 2-wheel drive. Now throw the 'Jeep' Gladiator in 4-wheel drive. And hang on. You'll know then what separates other pick-up trucks from the "Unstoppables."

Russia Almost Assured Of Beating U.S. On Final Day

Women Gymnasts Sweep Medals For USSR Team

By TED SMITS
Associated Press Sports Editor

TOKYO (AP) — Russia's graceful, talented women's gymnasts scooped up four medals, including one gold, in the first two of five events on this final day of competition in the Olympic Games and all but assured the Soviets of beating the United States in the total medal count.

The four medals, including a gold by Larisa Latynina in individual floor exercise, gave the Russians seven for the day and pushed their total to 84 compared with 88 for the United States.

Russia, however, is assured of seven more medals in boxing — also on the final program — and the United States is assured of one, either a silver or gold by heavyweight Joe Frazier of Philadelphia.

The difference is six, which would put the Russians two ahead of the United States' total.

With the evening schedule just getting underway, Russia had 26 gold medals, 23 silver and 35 bronze. The United States had 34 gold, 26 silver and 28 bronze.

The Russians, moreover, are all but certain of surpassing the U.S. medal total since they have strong entrants in the other four gymnastic events scheduled tonight. The United States is not expected to score.

The key medals for the Soviets were picked up by Tamara Manina and Larisa Latynina, who finished second and third behind Czechoslovakia's Vera Caslavska in the women's balance beam exercise.

Earlier, Russia had taken the gold medal in sabre team fencing and in men's volleyball, routing Brazil 3-0 in the final volleyball game. Defending champion Sergey Filatov rode Absent to a third-place finish in individual dressage in the equestrian competition.

The Russians, who trailed all the way in the medal count in these Games, have dominated the last two Olympics, beating the United States in total medals 98-74 in the 1956 Games in Melbourne and 103-71 in the 1960 Games in Rome.

Only the first time the Russians took part in the Olympics, in Helsinki in 1952, were they beaten, 76-69 by the United States.

The United States has led these Games almost from the start and had an edge of 88-77 going into this last full day of competition. From the start, however, it was known that the Americans would have to build a huge lead to offset the expected fast finish of the Russian gymnasts.

The Russian gymnasts won 15 medals, five of them gold, in the 1960 Olympic Games at Rome, and have 12 so far.

The United States, however, appeared to be too far ahead in gold medals to be caught, 34-24.

With the majority of the program scheduled at night, these were the early results:

The Netherlands' huge Anton Geesink won the open class in judo, defeating Japan's Akia Kaminaga and breaking Japan's domination of the event.

Henri Charmartin of Switzerland won the individual dressage with 1,504 points, just one more than Harry Boldt of Germany. Filatov was third with 1,486.

India beat Pakistan 1-0 and won the gold medal in field hockey. Pakistan was second and Australia third.

Hungary defeated Czechoslovakia 2-1 and took the soccer championship. Czechoslovakia was second and Germany third.

U.S. Cagers Blast Russia To Win Medal

TOKYO (AP) — A silk-smooth, inspired United States basketball team, stung by widespread speculation that its Olympic dominance was at an end, crushed Russia 73-59 today and won the gold medal for the sixth straight time.

The Golden Bears play their final two games on the road at Moundsville and Wintersville.

Bowl Committees Begin Hunt

New Substitution Rule Big Help To Nation's Top Gridiron Powers

By BOB HOOBING
Associated Press Sports Writer

Platoon-wise teams — headed by Ohio State, Notre Dame, and Alabama — will try to prove again Saturday there is no substitute for mastery of the new substitution rule.

For some of the most skilled in specialization, bowl bait already is being dangled and scouts from post-season football festivals have a busy weekend scheduled.

Sure, it takes talent to keep winning. Nobody argues the point. But there is no mere coincidence in the fact nine of the top 10 teams have gone all the way to platoons and the other — Louisiana State — employs the three unit system.

"We wouldn't be half so good under the old rules," frankly admits Ara Parseghian, coach of second-ranked Notre Dame, which plays host to Stanford.

The rule in question permits free substitution when the clock is stopped and two players per team when it is running.

One unnamed member of the Sugar Bowl selection committee says he's willing to gamble on inviting Notre Dame and LSU right now. Both clubs are prominent on the Orange Bowl list, too.

Moose Krause, Notre Dame athletic director, is busy reminding folks of the school's traditional anti-bowl policy but there is a feeling the Irish might make an exception. That they are strong enough to get bowl talk flying is a compliment to Parseghian's organization — and platoons.

Although many of the athletes are the same, it's a much different Notre Dame team than the one which closed out '63 in a 14-7 losing effort against Syracuse at Yankee Stadium. The defense was sound but the attack was not consistent.

Ohio State, successor to deposed Texas in the nation's No. 1 spot, is the team considered to have the inside track for the Big Ten crown and Rose Bowl trip. The Buckeyes have been platooning for several seasons so despite some key losses Woody Hayes' boys have fit right into the pattern neatly. While Willard Sander is one of the top rushers in the country Arnie Chonko heads all major college pass interceptions.

Ohio State has a major Big Ten date with Wisconsin while its fellow conference leader, Purdue, faces the anxious moments which go with Iowa Gary Snook's passing.

Third-ranked Alabama and Florida's No. 9 Gators meet in the battle of Tuscaloosa with the undisputed Southeastern Conference lead and unbeaten records in the balance.

Meanwhile, LSU faces Tennessee after winning its first four games for the first time since 1959. That's the last time the two met and the Vols upset the Tigers. In fact, LSU has beaten Tennessee only once in 12 meetings.

Arkansas, the fourth-ranked eleven which dethroned Texas last week, sends its platoons against nonleague rival Wichita while Texas, No. 6, has an important Southwest Conference engagement at Rice.

Fifth-ranked Nebraska heads for Colorado in Big Eight competition while Kansas is at Oklahoma State and Oklahoma is at home to Kansas State in Big Eight action. The Iowa-Missouri clash is scheduled for regional TV showing along with Minnesota-Michigan, Dartmouth-rd and LSU-Tennessee.

Nebraska has one offensive, one defense platoon and third and fourth units geared to go both ways which is why Coach Bob Devaney is upset over a conference rule limiting traveling squds to 36. He wants 44.

Eighth-ranked Syracuse is at Oregon State and 10th-ranked Florida State at Virginia Tech. Syracuse's defensive unit is being strengthened by the switch of John Krok to left tackle from middleguard with Gerry Everling going the opposite route.

Although Coach Bobby Dodd still isn't fully pleased with the rule, Georgia Tech observers say one reason for Tech's unbeaten record is the substitution setup. Tech meets Tulane Saturday.

Unbeaten, once-tied Duke, a strong bowl candidate, invades Army and Navy takes on Pitt in Eastern features. Both service academies are below .500 to date because injuries have riddled their substitution setups.

In fact, Army's Paul Dietzel has announced he's had to abandon three units in favor of platoons because of six men hurt in the middle of the Cadet line. Air Force, which has taken a battering recently, bumps into Boston College, meanwhile.

Tulsa visits Cincinnati with its Jerry Rhome-sparked aerial circus and the winner should go on to the Missouri Valley title.

California-Southern Cal and Oregon-Washington highlight AAWU action while Western A.C. leader Wyoming is at Arizona.

William and Mary, Southern Conference co-leader, takes on George Washington.

Other major games include UCLA at Illinois and Penn State-West Virginia plus Ivy League matches as follows: Princeton at Penn, Dartmouth at Harvard, Yale at Cornell.

Gun Bow Set For 1st Start At Aqueduct

By ORLO ROBERTSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

Aqueduct and Hawthorne each present $100,000 races Saturday with the appearance of Gun Bow in his first start of the year on the grass making Aqueduct's Man O'War the gold-laden national card.

Gun Bow from the Gedney Farms is the leading candidate for Horse of the Year honors off eight victories, two seconds and two thirds in 14 starts for earnings of $532,740. After the Man O'War, his next start will be in Laurel's Washington D.C. International Nov. 11.

In the International, Gun Bow will oppose Kelso, four-time Horse of the Year who has broken even with the Gedney ace in their last two thrilling clashes, and a hand picked field of foreign runners. Kelso gets his final prep for the International in the Jockey Club Gold Cup at Aqueduct Oct. 21.

With seven definite starters, including such proven turf course performers as Turbo Jet II, Cedar Key, Master Dennis and Parka, the Man O'War will gross $125,000 with $87,750 going to the winner.

Hawthorne's Gold Cup at 1¼ miles closes out the Chicago track's meeting. There are nine likely starters headed by Rex Ellsworth's speedy Olden Times topweight under 123 pounds; E. and H. N. Seltzer's Going Abroad, who won the Manhattan Handicap at Aqueduct in American record time of 2:26 1-5 for 1½ miles, and Crimson King Farm's Crimson Satan. Going Abroad and Crimson Satan pack 120 pounds each.

With nine starters, the Gold Cup will be worth $126,100 with $77,100 going to the winner.

Russia Almost Assured Of Beating U.S. On Final Day

Women Gymnasts Sweep Medals For USSR Team

By TED SMITS
Associated Press Sports Editor

TOKYO (AP) — Russia's graceful, talented women's gymnasts scooped up four medals, including one gold, in the first two of five events on this final day of competition in the Olympic Games and all but assured the Soviets of beating the United States in the total medal count.

The four medals, including a gold by Larisa Latynina in individual floor exercise, gave the Russians seven for the day and pushed their total to 84 compared with 88 for the United States.

Russia, however, is assured of seven more medals in boxing — also on the final program — and the United States is assured of one, either a silver or gold by heavyweight Joe Frazier of Philadelphia.

The difference is six, which would put the Russians two ahead of the United States' total.

With the evening schedule just getting underway, Russia had 26 gold medals, 23 silver and 35 bronze. The United States had 34 gold, 26 silver and 28 bronze.

The Russians, moreover, are all but certain of surpassing the U.S. medal total since they have strong entrants in the other four gymnastic events scheduled tonight. The United States is not expected to score.

The key medals for the Soviets were picked up by Tamara Manina and Larisa Latynina, who finished second and third behind Czechoslovakia's Vera Caslavska in the women's balance beam exercise.

Earlier, Russia had taken the gold medal in sabre team fencing and in men's volleyball, routing Brazil 3-0 in the final volleyball game. Defending champion Sergey Filatov rode Absent to a third-place finish in individual dressage in the equestrian competition.

The Russians, who trailed all the way in the medal count in these Games, have dominated the last two Olympics, beating the United States in total medals 98-74 in the 1956 Games in Melbourne and 103-71 in the 1960 Games in Rome.

Only the first time the Russians took part in the Olympics, in Helsinki in 1952, were they beaten, 76-69 by the United States.

The United States has led these Games almost from the start and had an edge of 88-77 going into this last full day of competition. From the start, however, it was known that the Americans would have to build a huge lead to offset the expected fast finish of the Russian gymnasts.

The Russian gymnasts won 15 medals, five of them gold, in the 1960 Olympic Games at Rome, and have 12 so far.

The United States, however, appeared to be too far ahead in gold medals to be caught, 34-24.

With the majority of the program scheduled at night, these were the early results:

The Netherlands' huge Anton Geesink won the open class in judo, defeating Japan's Akia Kaminaga and breaking Japan's domination of the event.

Henri Charmartin of Switzerland won the individual dressage with 1,504 points, just one more than Harry Boldt of Germany. Filatov was third with 1,486.

India beat Pakistan 1-0 and won the gold medal in field hockey. Pakistan was second and Australia third.

Hungary defeated Czechoslovakia 2-1 and took the soccer championship. Czechoslovakia was second and Germany third.

U.S. Cagers Blast Russia To Win Medal

TOKYO (AP) — A silk-smooth, inspired United States basketball team, stung by widespread speculation that its Olympic dominance was at an end, crushed Russia 73-59 today and won the gold medal for the sixth straight time.

7:30 Kickoff Slated For Oak Glen's Game

The kickoff for the Oak Glen-Bellaire St. John's game Saturday night at Bellaire will be at 7:30 instead of 8 as listed earlier, Principal E. Russell Slack of Oak Glen announced today.

He also reported reserved seat tickets will go on sale Monday at Herche's Drug Stores in Chester and New Cumberland and Carnahan's in Newell for Oak Glen's final home game Oct. 30 at Newell against Fairmont West. The Golden Bears play their final two games on the road at Moundsville and Wintersville.

Bowl Committees Begin Hunt

New Substitution Rule Big Help To Nation's Top Gridiron Powers

By BOB HOOBING
Associated Press Sports Writer

Platoon-wise teams — headed by Ohio State, Notre Dame, and Alabama — will try to prove again Saturday there is no substitute for mastery of the new substitution rule.

For some of the most skilled in specialization, bowl bait already is being dangled and scouts from post-season football festivals have a busy weekend scheduled.

Sure, it takes talent to keep winning. Nobody argues the point. But there is no mere coincidence in the fact nine of the top 10 teams have gone all the way to platoons and the other — Louisiana State — employs the three unit system.

"We wouldn't be half so good under the old rules," frankly admits Ara Parseghian, coach of second-ranked Notre Dame, which plays host to Stanford.

The rule in question permits free substitution when the clock is stopped and two players per team when it is running.

One unnamed member of the Sugar Bowl selection committee says he's willing to gamble on inviting Notre Dame and LSU right now. Both clubs are prominent on the Orange Bowl list, too.

Moose Krause, Notre Dame athletic director, is busy reminding folks of the school's traditional anti-bowl policy but there is a feeling the Irish might make an exception. That they are strong enough to get bowl talk flying is a compliment to Parseghian's organization — and platoons.

Although many of the athletes are the same, it's a much different Notre Dame team than the one which closed out '63 in a 14-7 losing effort against Syracuse at Yankee Stadium. The defense was sound but the attack was not consistent.

Ohio State, successor to deposed Texas in the nation's No. 1 spot, is the team considered to have the inside track for the Big Ten crown and Rose Bowl trip. The Buckeyes have been platooning for several seasons so despite some key losses Woody Hayes' boys have fit right into the pattern neatly. While Willard Sander is one of the top rushers in the country Arnie Chonko heads all major college pass interceptions.

Ohio State has a major Big Ten date with Wisconsin while its fellow conference leader, Purdue, faces the anxious moments which go with Iowa Gary Snook's passing.

Third-ranked Alabama and Florida's No. 9 Gators meet in the battle of Tuscaloosa with the undisputed Southeastern Conference lead and unbeaten records in the balance.

Meanwhile, LSU faces Tennessee after winning its first four games for the first time since 1959. That's the last time the two met and the Vols upset the Tigers. In fact, LSU has beaten Tennessee only once in 12 meetings.

Arkansas, the fourth-ranked eleven which dethroned Texas last week, sends its platoons against nonleague rival Wichita while Texas, No. 6, has an important Southwest Conference engagement at Rice.

Fifth-ranked Nebraska heads for Colorado in Big Eight competition while Kansas is at Oklahoma State and Oklahoma is at home to Kansas State in Big Eight action. The Iowa-Missouri clash is scheduled for regional TV showing along with Minnesota-Michigan, Dartmouth-rd and LSU-Tennessee.

Nebraska has one offensive, one defense platoon and third and fourth units geared to go both ways which is why Coach Bob Devaney is upset over a conference rule limiting traveling squds to 36. He wants 44.

Eighth-ranked Syracuse is at Oregon State and 10th-ranked Florida State at Virginia Tech. Syracuse's defensive unit is being strengthened by the switch of John Krok to left tackle from middleguard with Gerry Everling going the opposite route.

Although Coach Bobby Dodd still isn't fully pleased with the rule, Georgia Tech observers say one reason for Tech's unbeaten record is the substitution setup. Tech meets Tulane Saturday.

Unbeaten, once-tied Duke, a strong bowl candidate, invades Army and Navy takes on Pitt in Eastern features. Both service academies are below .500 to date because injuries have riddled their substitution setups.

In fact, Army's Paul Dietzel has announced he's had to abandon three units in favor of platoons because of six men hurt in the middle of the Cadet line. Air Force, which has taken a battering recently, bumps into Boston College, meanwhile.

Tulsa visits Cincinnati with its Jerry Rhome-sparked aerial circus and the winner should go on to the Missouri Valley title.

California-Southern Cal and Oregon-Washington highlight AAWU action while Western A.C. leader Wyoming is at Arizona.

William and Mary, Southern Conference co-leader, takes on George Washington.

Other major games include UCLA at Illinois and Penn State-West Virginia plus Ivy League matches as follows: Princeton at Penn, Dartmouth at Harvard, Yale at Cornell.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Heloise: Here is a thought for those whose dining room tables are not large enough to accommodate extra guests during holidays and other times during the year.

We bought a 4x8-foot piece of plywood and place it on top of our table. The plywood should be at least three-eighths of an inch thick in order to stand up under the pressure at the edge of the table.

Since a cloth of this size would seldom be used, I bought a 108-inch bed sheet to use as a tablecloth.

After a meal, the plywood can be taken off and put aside, thus allowing a normal amount of living space, which is needed with extra company.

If put away where it can be laid flat to prevent warping, this same piece of plywood will last a lifetime.

Be sure to put a cloth or blanket of some kind between the table and the plywood to prevent scratching the table.

D. G.

—:—

I knew one family who bought plywood the size of their double bed and used it as a bed board underneath the mattress.

This is to let those who have bed boards know that they can also be used to enlarge table tops or put between two card tables, etc.

And, after all, we can't possibly eat and sleep at the same time, eh?

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: Did you ever start to sew a button on a blouse or shirt (particularly a little boy's shirt) and find a hole where the button should go?

I cut a square of iron-on tape large enough to cover the hole, yet not large enough to show when the shirt is buttoned, and iron the square of tape directly on top of the hole.

If the hole is quite bad and needs reinforcing on the back, I iron a square of the tape there, also.

Then I sew the button on its proper place on top of the tape.

PAT AUSTIN.

DEAR HELOISE: Perhaps some of your readers would like to try my idea for happier toddlers at mealtime:

I tape paper placemats to the highchair trays, then give my girls two or three crayons and let them draw until the meal is ready.

This way, the children are not in my way in the kitchen, and they are happy and quiet.

The after meal clean-up is quick and easy since the trays have had the extra protection of the placemats!

LINDA LESLIE.

DEAR HELOISE: I read once that if a person wants to keep a rooster in town and not have it bother the neighbors with its crowing — raise the roost high enough so the rooster can't stretch his neck and he can't possible crow.

I never tried it but it sounds reasonable.

NELLIE K. McCLELLAN.

DEAR HELOISE: A standard question you get is one about condensation on windows. This is a problem which is usually limited to fairly new, well-insulated houses, especially those with aluminum sashes.

I solved my problem so simply it was absurd. I unlatched the windows! This breaks the airtight seal.

On dry, windy days I latch the windows. On rainy days, I unlatch them.

The condensation problem is usually limited to the cooking and eating areas and the bathrooms, where there is an excessive amount of moisture.

"THE CEREMONY"

Out Of The Air

By RICHARD K. DOAN

The D. A. And The Vigilantes

Film star Robert Ryan goes before the cameras in New York this week to begin portrayal of a Manhattan "chief assistant district attorney" in a proposed new hour - long weekly drama for NBC.

Richard Doan

It's called "Indictment" and is planned as a prospective 1965-66 series. The script for the pilot is based on a story by Evan Hunter, author of such books as "The Blackboard Jungle" and "Strangers When We Meet."

-:-

TITLED "The Committee," the episode deals, according to the producers, with "formation of a vigilante committee by a group of well-meaning citizens, who are opposed in principle" by the story's star.

"Indictment" will be produced by Universal (Revue) Studios, the Hollywood firm which turns out such NBC dramas as "The Virginians," "Suspense Theater" and "Bob Hope Presents."

The proposed TV series apparently has no connection with a radio drama called "Indictment" which ran on CBS from 1956 to 1959. That was based on the experiences of Eleazar Lipsky, a New York lawyer and novelist.

The TV pilot will be shot in color. The producer is Robert Costello, remembered as producer of the long-running "Circle Theater."

-:-

NBC IS VERY close to announcing that Dean Martin will be starred by the network next season on a weekly variety show, according to reliable sources.

Negotiations reportedly will be concluded between the singer-comedian and network within a few days.

No hint so far is forthcoming as to what night and time period NBC has in mind for the series.

If it materializes, the show will be Martin's first weekly TV outing since the days, back in the 1950s, when he did NBC's "Comedy Hour" with Jerry Lewis.

It also looks like the first move in recent years by NBC to get back into the weekly variety field, an entertainment form most widely pursued of late by CBS and to some extent by ABC.

NBC's variety fare gradually diminished as Dinah Shore checked out and Perry Como went to specials. Andy Williams is the chief NBC survivor in variety.

-:-

SO FAR, sudden death has yet to hit the ranks of network TV shows this fall.

Last year at this time ABC unceremoniously had axed its new "100 Grand" giveaway show after three weeks' exposure and substituted a panel thing called "Laughs for Sale."

That was a case, however, of a live show vulnerable to overnight cancellation.

Most shows are on film, and they're committed at least 13 weeks ahead, so why publicly drop the boom on them before you know for sure that all hope is lost? All hope of passing grades in the ratings, that is.

-:-

THE CHANCES are this season that the cancellations and schedule shuffles won't come until after a national Nielsen survey is issued early next week. Network programmers feel this poll will be pretty indicative of the comparative strengths of current entries.

Meanwhile, industry circles are buzzing with rumors of proposed shifts. Attention is focused chiefly on CBS, which is believed to be thinking of major overhaul of its lineup.

A CBS spokesman poohpoohed the talk.

"No changes are contemplated within the foreseeable future," he said.

He did not say how far ahead that was.

Young Urges Taft Clarify His Finances

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Sen. Stephen M. Young says that before Rep. Robert Taft Jr. raises conflict - of - interest charges against the Democratic administration, he should clarify his own finances first.

Young, who is opposed for reelection to his U.S. Senate seat by the Ohio Republican Congressman-at-large, made the assertion Thursday night in his sixth "position paper" of the campaign.

The Democratic senator, who claims to be the first member of Congress to voluntarily disclose his personal finances, made the conflict-of-interest allegations in regard to Taft and his law firm, Taft, Stettinius & Hollister.

Young said that among the clients of the firm, which he says lists Taft as "counsel," are General Electric, Avco, Ford Motor Co., Emery Industries, Pennsylvania and Norfolk & Western railroads, Trailmobile (a subsidiary of the Pullman Co.), Taft Broadcasting Co., Procter & Gamble, Prudential and Union Life insurance companies and the Kroger Co.

All of these firms, Young said, have a large stake in government activities. Some, he said, seek and receive government contracts while others deal with such administrative bodies as the Interstate Commerce Commission, the Security and Exchange Commission and the Federal Communications Commission.

Asserting that "the very corporate existence" of the firm's clients "and many of the billion-dollar decisions are affected by countless legislative and administrative policy determinations," the Democratic senator said:

"I believe he has an obligation to show how he could possibly absolve himself of all conflict-of - interest considerations when the clients of his law firm are almost constantly before one government agency or another.

"If Taft Junior is going to talk about 'conflict of interest,' I believe he should talk about his own law firm and his own finances—first," Young said.

Rep. Bolton Asks For Policies To Aid Small Farms

GREENVILLE, Ohio (AP)—Rep. Oliver P. Bolton, Republican candidate for Ohio Congressman-at-large, has called for federal farm policies that will insure the preservation of small family farms.

In a campaign speech at a Darke County GOP rally at the fairgrounds, Bolton asserted that present farm programs, although "designed supposedly to help" the small farmer, actually are "principally benefitting the large corporate farmer."

In the years ahead, with a steadily increasing population, Bolton said, "our problem could well be one of shortage rather than oversupply of farm products.

"As a result, farm subsidies should be continued but should be designed to provide maximum benefit to the small farmer."

He charged that Ohio farmers and consumers are being penalized by the current federal farm program and that in Ohio the "wheat program is a complete failure."

Captain Jim Carroll, senior guard-linebacker from Atlanta, Ga., and Tom Kostelnik, senior center-linebacker from Hiller, Pa., each made eight tacles for Notre Dame as the Irish beat Wisconsin in their football opener this fall.

Out Of The Air

By RICHARD K. DOAN

The D. A. And The Vigilantes

Film star Robert Ryan goes before the cameras in New York this week to begin portrayal of a Manhattan "chief assistant district attorney" in a proposed new hour - long weekly drama for NBC.

Richard Doan

It's called "Indictment" and is planned as a prospective 1965-66 series. The script for the pilot is based on a story by Evan Hunter, author of such books as "The Blackboard Jungle" and "Strangers When We Meet."

-:-

TITLED "The Committee," the episode deals, according to the producers, with "formation of a vigilante committee by a group of well-meaning citizens, who are opposed in principle" by the story's star.

"Indictment" will be produced by Universal (Revue) Studios, the Hollywood firm which turns out such NBC dramas as "The Virginians," "Suspense Theater" and "Bob Hope Presents."

The proposed TV series apparently has no connection with a radio drama called "Indictment" which ran on CBS from 1956 to 1959. That was based on the experiences of Eleazar Lipsky, a New York lawyer and novelist.

The TV pilot will be shot in color. The producer is Robert Costello, remembered as producer of the long-running "Circle Theater."

-:-

NBC IS VERY close to announcing that Dean Martin will be starred by the network next season on a weekly variety show, according to reliable sources.

Negotiations reportedly will be concluded between the singer-comedian and network within a few days.

No hint so far is forthcoming as to what night and time period NBC has in mind for the series.

If it materializes, the show will be Martin's first weekly TV outing since the days, back in the 1950s, when he did NBC's "Comedy Hour" with Jerry Lewis.

It also looks like the first move in recent years by NBC to get back into the weekly variety field, an entertainment form most widely pursued of late by CBS and to some extent by ABC.

NBC's variety fare gradually diminished as Dinah Shore checked out and Perry Como went to specials. Andy Williams is the chief NBC survivor in variety.

-:-

SO FAR, sudden death has yet to hit the ranks of network TV shows this fall.

Last year at this time ABC unceremoniously had axed its new "100 Grand" giveaway show after three weeks' exposure and substituted a panel thing called "Laughs for Sale."

That was a case, however, of a live show vulnerable to overnight cancellation.

Most shows are on film, and they're committed at least 13 weeks ahead, so why publicly drop the boom on them before you know for sure that all hope is lost? All hope of passing grades in the ratings, that is.

-:-

THE CHANCES are this season that the cancellations and schedule shuffles won't come until after a national Nielsen survey is issued early next week. Network programmers feel this poll will be pretty indicative of the comparative strengths of current entries.

Meanwhile, industry circles are buzzing with rumors of proposed shifts. Attention is focused chiefly on CBS, which is believed to be thinking of major overhaul of its lineup.

A CBS spokesman poohpoohed the talk.

"No changes are contemplated within the foreseeable future," he said.

He did not say how far ahead that was.

Young Urges Taft Clarify His Finances

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Sen. Stephen M. Young says that before Rep. Robert Taft Jr. raises conflict - of - interest charges against the Democratic administration, he should clarify his own finances first.

Young, who is opposed for re-election to his U.S. Senate seat by the Ohio Republican Congressman-at-large, made the assertion Thursday night in his sixth "position paper" of the campaign.

The Democratic senator, who claims to be the first member of Congress to voluntarily disclose his personal finances, made the conflict-of-interest allegations in regard to Taft and his law firm, Taft, Stettinius & Hollister.

Young said that among the clients of the firm, which he says lists Taft as "counsel," are General Electric, Avco, Ford Motor Co., Emery Industries, Pennsylvania and Norfolk & Western railroads, Trailmobile (a subsidiary of the Pullman Co.), Taft Broadcasting Co., Procter & Gamble, Prudential and Union Life insurance companies and the Kroger Co.

All of these firms, Young said, have a large stake in government activities. Some, he said, seek and receive government contracts while others deal with such administrative bodies as the Interstate Commerce Commission, the Security and Exchange Commission and the Federal Communications Commission.

Asserting that "the very corporate existence" of the firm's clients "and many of the billion-dollar decisions are affected by countless legislative and administrative policy determinations," the Democratic senator said:

"I believe he has an obligation to show how he could possibly absolve himself of all conflict-of - interest considerations when the clients of his law firm are almost constantly before one government agency or another.

"If Taft Junior is going to talk about 'conflict of interest,' I believe he should talk about his own law firm and his own finances—first," Young said.

Rep. Bolton Asks For Policies To Aid Small Farms

GREENVILLE, Ohio (AP)—Rep. Oliver P. Bolton, Republican candidate for Ohio Congressman-at-large, has called for federal farm policies that will insure the preservation of small family farms.

In a campaign speech at a Darke County GOP rally at the fairgrounds, Bolton asserted that present farm programs, although "designed supposedly to help" the small farmer, actually are "principally benefitting the large corporate farmer."

In the years ahead, with a steadily increasing population, Bolton said, "our problem could well be one of shortage rather than oversupply of farm products.

"As a result, farm subsidies should be continued but should be designed to provide maximum benefit to the small farmer."

He charged that Ohio farmers and consumers are being penalized by the current federal farm program and that in Ohio the "wheat program is a complete failure."

Captain Jim Carroll, senior guard-linebacker from Atlanta, Ga., and Tom Kostelnik, senior center-linebacker from Hiller, Pa., each made eight tackles for Notre Dame as the Irish beat Wisconsin in their football opener this fall.

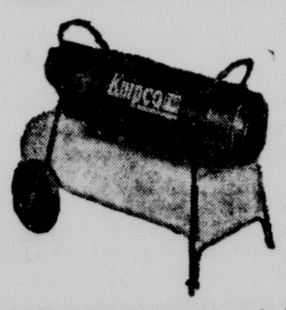
INSTANT HEAT Anywhere!



Only a Knipco heater brings you circulating warm air instantly, wherever you need it. Plug it in anywhere—indoors or out. Use the really low priced Knipco in your machine shed, hog house, milk house, or chicken house. Thaw pipes, pumps, equipment. Preheat engines. Many other applications.

Burns kerosene or No. 1 fuel oil, needs no vent. Anyone can run it. Plug in for heat—pull plug to stop! Thermostat available.

Knipco Model F155 and the FV200 vented heater work just as easy but put out more heat. Stop in soon for a demonstration.

Only a Knipco heater brings you circulating warm air instantly, wherever you need it. Plug it in anywhere—indoors or out. Use the really low priced Knipco in your machine shed, hog house, milk house, or chicken house. Thaw pipes, pumps, equipment. Preheat engines. Many other applications.

Burns kerosene or No. 1 fuel oil, needs no vent. Anyone can run it. Plug in for heat—pull plug to stop! Thermostat available.

Knipco Model F155 and the FV200 vented heater work just as easy but put out more heat. Stop in soon for a demonstration.

Junior Editors Quiz on THE EARTH

QUESTION: What makes the seasons, and how did they get their names?

ANSWER: Every 24 hours, the earth spins once around on its axis, or line between the north and south poles. Besides its spinning motion, Earth also moves around the sun, taking a year to make a complete revolution. Look at the diagram in lower left and you will see that Earth has an inclination or tilt of its axis and that it keeps this as it travels around on its yearly journey. The tilt means that the sun's rays pour down, in the northern hemisphere, at a more direct angle in the summer (upper picture) than in the winter (lower picture). This difference in angle is what makes summer warmer and winter colder in the U.S.A. South of the equator, it's just the reverse warm in our winter, cold in our summer.

Names for our seasons come from long ago. "Spring" is an old Anglo-Saxon word meaning "rising"—think of plants rising up in April and May. "Summer" is from an Indian Sanskrit work meaning "season"—and summer is perhaps the most important season, the one in which crops grow. "Autumn" time of harvest, is from a Latin word meaning "maturing." "Winter" means "wet season" in Anglo Saxon—the English winter being often more rainy than cold.

★ ★ ★

FOR YOU TO DO: Take an apple or orange, and considering it to be the earth, make a mark for about where you live. Then hold it at the same tilt as Earth's axis and move it around a light bulb, noticing the angle in which the light falls. It will help you to understand the seasons.

Today In History

By The Associated Press

Today is Friday, Oct. 23, the 297th day of 1964. There are 69 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1944, the three-day Battle of Leyte Gulf started. The defeat of a Japanese fleet enabled Allied forces, led by Gen. Douglas MacArthur, to complete the invasion of the Philippines.

On this date

In 1776, George Washington's troops withdrew from the Island of Manhattan.

In 1929, the New York Stock market dropped down 5 billion in an avalanche of selling.

In 1942, British Gen. Bernard Montgomery broke the Axis line at El Alamein and started his drive on Tunis.

Ten years ago — A French-German agreement was reached on the Saar Valley, giving West Germany sovereignty.

Five years ago — India and Pakistan announced they had settled their dispute concerning the East Pakistan-India Frontier.

One year ago — The Earl of Home renounced his titles, becoming Sir Alec Douglas-Home, after being named British prime minister.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q.—How can I make a substitute for cream of tartar?

A.—When mixing a cake that calls for cream of tartar, a good substitute is buttermilk. If the buttermilk is not sour enough, add vinegar.

Q.—What is a good way to clean a sponge?

A.—Place it in milk, allow to remain for at least 12 hours, then rinse in cold water.

Q.—Is there any way I can make candles burn longer?

A.—If you'll place the candles in the refrigerator for about 24 hours before using, this has a way of making them burn much longer.

Color Film On Hawaii To Be Shown Tuesday

Charles Forbes Taylor will present his new color movie, "Hawaii — The State," as the last in the Travel and Adventure Series sponsored by the Quota Club Tuesday at Westgate School.

CHARLES TAYLOR
He'll Narrate Adventure Movie.

Born in England, he made his first public appearance when 4, singing to a thousand men addressed by his father, a preacher. He began traveling with his father on "The Gospel Wagon" when 5 and made his first public speech when 9. When 13, he and his father came to the United States and he has addressed an average of 500,000 people a year for the past 40 years.

Taylor holds degrees of D. D. from Hardin-Simmons University and LL.D. from Baylor University. He became a naturalized citizen in 1926 and has authored 10 books. His interest in photography began at 16 when he took pictures of the burning steamship Congress on which he and his father were passengers, after climbing down rope ladders into life boats. Newspapers all over the world published the pictures. He changed to 16-mm. film making in 1935 and has photographed Europe, America, South Pacific, the Near East, South America, Alaska and Hawaii.

The film shows the development of Hawaii as a new state including the University of Hawaii. It will show travel completely around the island from crowded streets of Honolulu to deserted point facing Asia.

Shown will be erupting volcanoes, the fabulous orchids, deep canyons, Samoan dances, fishing and the mountains.

Mrs. Laura Reinacher, chairman, announced tickets will be sold at the door. Proceeds will go to the Speech and Hearing Clinic which the club operates at Westgate School.

Trustee Testifies At Hearing

Proposed Canal Branded 'Planned Civil Disaster'

JEFFERSON, Ohio (AP)—An Austinburg Township trustee has described the proposed Lake Erie-Ohio River Canal as "a planned civil disaster unlike anything wrecked on this (Ashtabula) county in modern times."

Keith A. Johnson, the trustee, was among some 30 persons who testified Thursday at a hearing before U. S. Army Engineers who are studying the feasibility of building the 120-mile waterway.

Johnson pointed out that Austinburg, Rock Creek, Eagleville and much of western Ashtabula County would be under water in the proposed canal, which would have Fariport Harbor, about 40 miles southwest of Ashtabula, as the northern terminus.

Other Ashtabula County men agreed that the project would have their full approval if Ashtabula were the northern terminus.

Robert Fuller, an attorney representing the Ashtabula Chamber of Commerce, "Questioned the wisdom of engineers in locating the canal's northern terminus at Farport Harbor."

"It is unfair to Ashtabula and Ashtabula County to take land and water entirely for the benefit of someone else," Fuller said. "It is unfair to destroy millions of dollars of investments in our docks, deprive dock workers of jobs and displace families unnecessarily."

Benham Cheney of the Ashtabula Port Authority said barge users would have to pay $3.2 millon more annually in operating costs because of the additional 10 miles in canal length caused by making Fairport Harbor the northern terminus instead of Ashtabula. He said Ashtabula's harbor already is equipped to handle the estimated 50 million tons of cargo the proposed canal would transport.

Col. James E. Hammerhead of the Army Engineers Pittsburgh District, who presided at the hearing, said engineering advances made the route to Fairport Harbor a more feasible one. Only three locks would be required along the Grand River, he said. The Ashtabula route would require seven locks.

A chief complaint from those testifying is that the Fairport Harbor plan would create a 30-mile long, five-mile wide reservoir in western Ashtabula County.

Welfare Funds Total $427,274 For County

Columbiana County received a total of $427,274 in fiscal 1964 for welfare purposes from state and federal sources, State Auditor Roger Tracy announced.

This included $175,073 for dependent children, $71,188 for poor relief, $132,368 for disabled and $48,645 for aid to the blind.

Jefferson County received The distribution throughout $827,953 — $429,824 for dependent children, $161,777 for poor relief, $181,825 for disabled and $54,527 for aid to the blind.

Ohio totaled $92,977,966 the report showed, a decline of $2.3 million from 1963.

Boy In Fatal Wreck Placed On Probation

LISBON—A 16-year-old Pennsylvania boy involved in a fatal crash last Aug. 6 on Route 14 cannot drive again until he is 21.

Juvenile Court Judge Louis Tobin Thursday afternoon found Anthony Bertone Jr. of New Castle guilty of a charge of being a "delinquent child."

The victim was the driver's cousin, John Pellarino, 18, also of New Castle.

As the second condition for the five - year probation, the court directed young Bertone to pay $600 to the victim's parents through Juvenile Court, at the rate of $25 per month beginning Nov. 1.

The court also placed Bertone on a 10 p. m. curfew for one year, except when accompanied by one or both parents, and ordered him to report to the Lawrence County (Pa.) probation officer.

The youth pleaded no contest to the State Highway Patrol charge. Testimony of Ptl. Richard DeLagrange and a statement by Atty. James Primm, Bertone's counsel, developed these facts:

Bertone was employed as a musician at The Ranch on Route 14. His cousin, John was with him. They went riding about 2 a. m. with Dale Klingensmith, 35, of Columbiana and Robert McGillis, 48, of Canfield in a 1965 Mustang issued by the Ford Motor Co. to the Columbiana Kiwanis Club as a demonstrator.

The patrol did not determine for several days who was driving because everyone except Klingensmith was thrown from the vehicle as it rolled over several times. A truck driver removed Klingensmith by cutting his safety belt. Young Bertone and the two men were injured. Pellarino died of skull injuries before reaching the hospital.

Bertone got his driver's license June 6 — just two months before the crash. His counsel said he probably was driving too fast and was unable to handle the car when it dropped off the right berm, due to inexperience.

Ptl. DeLagrange said he estimated the car's speed "conservatively" at 80 miles per hour. He said the accident occurred 1.4 miles east of the Route 7 intersection as Bertone was driving east. The car left 72 feet of tire marks in the eastbound lane, traveled another 198 feet on the south berm parallel to the road, then rolled over several times as it traveled another 225 feet and came to a stop upside down in the eastbound lane.

Dravo's '64 Backlog Exceeds Last Year's

PITTSBURGH — The Dravo Corp. bookings of new business so far in 1964 have been running well above those of last year, Carl B. Jansen, chairman, announced.

Net income for the first nine months of 1964 was $2,689,994, or $2.62 a common share compared with $2,067,768 or $2 a share in the similar period of 1963. Revenue was $75,645,267, compared with $70,454,415 in the same period last year.

Backlog rose from $85.6 million at the beginning of the year to $116.3 million Sept. 30. The firm declared the quarterly dividend of 35 cents on common, payable Nov. 16 to record Nov. 5.

Bad Solution

GASTONIA, N. C. (AP) — A property owner decided to sink her own well to avoid drinking fluoride water that the city recently began dispensing. This was fine, city officials said, but noted that some well water in the Gastonia area contains more natural fluoride than is being supplied to the municipal water supply.

Pays To Be On Job

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)— Policeman Delmar Blackwell drove up to an intersection and was surprised to see his maroon convertible go by. The officer apprehended a 14-year-old driver who was accused of taking the car from a dealer's lot, where it was left to be serviced.
